Reds Still Hold 3,404 U.N. Prisoners, Allies Say; Fast Return Is Sought in Korea

Time Is Short On Vinson's Replacement

Supreme Court Due To Convene Oct. 5; Warren Mentioned

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower has only a little over three weeks to name a successor to the late Chief Justice Vinson if he wishes the appointee to be on the job at the time the Supreme Court opens its new term

That time is noon on Monday, Oct. 5—the date fixed by law for term-opening formalities. Vinson was arranging details before he was stricken with a fatal heart attack early yesterday. He was 63.

Recess Appointment

Since Congress is in adjournment, Eisenhower is expected to fill the vacancy by recess appointment, subject to later confirmation by the Senate.

If the President makes his choice in time for the new term opening the appointee can make an all-out plunge into the court's work Oct 5.

This is true even though formalities witnessed by the public in open court that day take only half an hour or so and are a routine affair.

The justices then go to a closed conference room, take off their blackrobes and begin work on a stack of about 400 appeals that have piled up during the summer recess. They debate the legal merits of each appeal and decide which will be rejected and which will be granted later hearings in open court.

Decisions Set for Oct. 12

The closed session goes on all week. Then on the following Monday, Oct. 12, the court announces its decisions on these appeals and begins a two-week session of hearing arguments on pleas that were granted late in the last term.

If Eisenhower was not chosen a new chief justice by Oct. 5, Associate Justice Black will preside until Vinson's successor is named. Black takes on this task as senior judge in point of service and he then is referred to as the presiding justice. Black acted in this capacity for a time after the death of Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, Vinson's predecessor.

One factor which Eisenhower could take into consideration if he wishes to defer the appointment is that no major case has been put on the tentative schedule for argument during October.

Could Wait Till December

The new chief justice could take his seat as late as December and be in time to take part in the major case coming up in the new term. It involves constitutionality of racial segregation in the public schools Arguments won't be heard at least until December.

Speculation over Eisenhower's choice—and it was only speculation—centered on the name of Earl Warren, California's Republican governor For some months, Warren has been reported headed for a Supreme Court seat when the Eisenhower administration had the duty of filling its first vacancy. Warren's term as governor, however, runs through next year; he would have to resign to accept an

Ike Is Silent On Successor To Court Post

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower kept his own counsel today on his thinking about a jurist to succeed Fred M. Vinson as chief justice of the United States.

Staff personnel at the summer White House declined even to discuss possible successors to Vinson, who died of a heart attack in Washington early yesterday.

Speculation continued to center here on two men—Gov Earl Warren of California, who announced last week he wouldn't seek a fourth term in 1954, and Gov. Thomas E Dewey of New York

But Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary to the President, told newsmen Eisenhower's vacation headquarters would have absolutely no comment on reports dealing with those two men or any others mentioned as possible successors.

Presidential aides said yesterday there was no doubt the President

HUDDLE OVER LOYALTY INFORMATION. Army Secretary Robert Stevens (left) and Senator Joseph McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, discuss the dispute over loyalty information demanded by McCarthy from the Army. Stevens said persons who refuse to say under oath whether they are Communists "should not work" for the army. Stevens, however, did not indicate whether the Army will give information to McCarthy's committee about persons who cleared alleged Communists on the Army's civilian payroll.

No Whitewash: Stevens

Secretary of Army Feels McCarthy Probe Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen McCarthy (R-Wis), holding a "no whitewash" pledge from Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, left to the administration today the next move in his search for Communist infiltration among the Army's civilian workers.

The Army has refused several times to give McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee the names of those who granted security clearances to three civilian workers the senator contends have ties to communism.

Based on Truman Order

The refusals were based on an executive order former President Truman issued in 1948 forbidding government agencies to give out details on handling of security cases without White House permission. President Eisenhower has allowed the order to stand.

A day-long series of public and private hearings, meetings and news conferences by McCarthy's subcommittee yesterday was marked by:

1. Stevens' public promise to decide with "no blackout, no whitewash" whether to comply with McCarthy's demand that he name the Army personnel who cleared the three workers for jobs.

2. McCarthy's declaration that he will appeal to Eisenhower if Stevens doesn't supply the names. McCarthy commented that "I can't conceive how a president elected on a cleanup program, who made promises from coast to coast to clean up crime and perversion, can refuse"

New Policy

3. A new policy statement by Stevens that it should be grounds for dismissal for any Army employe to refuse to tell whether he is a Communist.

4. A declaration by McCarthy that a "not overly bright" former employe of the Munitions Board had testified behind closed doors yesterday that a reporter for columnist Drew Pearson subjected him to "blackmailing" tactics to get access to military-secrets information. Pearson issued a statement denying that he or his staff engaged in blackmail to get news and said, "McCarthy's statements sound like his continued vendetta against me."

Declining to make public the name of the former Munitions Board worker, McCarthy told a news conference he will call Pearson and the reporter, Frederick Z. Blumenthal, for questioning. Pearson said he would be glad to testify if McCarthy has pertinent questions to ask.

Only One Named

Thus far McCarthy has named publicly only one of the three civilian employes of the Army whose security clearances he questions. He named Mrs. Doris Walters Powell of New York City, employed by the Army Quartermaster Corps in New York.

In New York, Mrs. Powell said McCarthy's accusations are "not true at all." She said her job with the Army is "strictly clerical and I have no access to troop movement data," as the senator has said.

Her attorney, Joseph C. Morris, said Mrs. Powell never took out Communist party membership "nor did she consider herself a Communist." Morris said he had advised his client not to resign from her Army job "because it would look like she was running away from something.

Heard Nothing

Mrs. Powell, who is on maternity leave due to end Sept. 28, said she has heard nothing from the Army and "as far as I know I am still working there."

Stevens said he would study the record of Mrs. Powell's testimony at a closed hearing last week before deciding what action should be taken.

McCarthy said the other two employes whose security status he questions are men.

Stevens, at a news conference which McCarthy attended, told reporters he will review all of the testimony concerning the three, and will read the Truman order which his subordinates have cited.

He did not reply directly to questions as to whether he might recommend that Eisenhower countermand or amend the order. But he did say he might find it desirable to discuss the whole case with the President before announcing his decision.

Speeding Car Rams Train, 1 Dead, 3 Critical

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—An automobile containing four Navy flight students skidded into a Louisville & Nashville passenger train at high speed today and bounded high into the air.

One of the four, Ens. Lowell Edward Schuer (home address unavailable) was killed instantly. Two others were injured so critically they are expected to die. The fourth was hurt seriously.

Most critically injured were Ens. Robert A. Coleman and Donald Spobfford, Ens. George A. Crepeau, tentatively identified as the driver of the car, was less critically hurt.

The car was hurled more than 100 feet into the air, and parts were scattered over a wide area.

All four of the flight students were based at Whiting Field, near Milton, Fla.

The Navy said full identifications of the four were being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Lights at School Go Into Operation

Traffic lights near school zones which have been out of operation all summer were turned on again Tuesday morning.

According to police chief Tom Coon, the lights are now in operation from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. He said they seemed to be doing the job of slowing down traffic near the school sections very effectively.

Coon reported traffic on Bellefontaine Ave. has been slowed by the return to use of the special school lights. He said traffic in other parts of the city would probably be slowed as much now that the lights are in operation.

Polish Truce Official Bolts Korea Team

Flees to U. S. Base; 'Last Chance' To Quit Reds, He Declares

SEOUL (AP)—A Polish member of a neutral nations truce inspection team in South Korea today fled from his Iron Curtain countrymen and was given political asylum by an American air base commander, the U. S. Army announced.

The Pole made his dramatic break as an airplane was warming up to take his inspection team back to North Korea.

'Last Chance'

"It's my last chance," the Pole told American officers.

The Army identified the man as Jan Hajdukiewicz, 28, a civilian interpreter with a neutral nations inspection team at Kangnung, on Korea's east coast.

The Army said the Pole and other members of his team of Polish, Czechs, Swedes and Swiss, had been at Kangnung since Aug. 24.

Hajdukiewicz was standing on the Kangnung airfield with other members of the truce team at 5 30 a. m. today as an airplane was warming up to take the team back to North Korea.

The Army said the Pole went to an American officer attached to the unit inspection team, Maj. Edward Moran, Westernport, Md., and said he was "afraid" to go back to Communist control and did not wish to return.

"It's my last chance," Moran quoted Hajdukiewicz.

Asks Asylum

The Pole said he asked asylum because of "long standing opposition to Communism."

The Army said "in line with traditional U.S. policy of protecting and assisting political refugees, the air base commander, Col Harold T. Babb, of the U.S. Air Force, Dalton, Ga., immediately placed the man under custody for his protection"

The Army said the Pole was a native of Lodz, and claimed he was not a Communist Party member. The Pole said he was an employe of the import-export agency of the government when he was selected as an English language translator for the unit.

He arrived in Korea via Siberia and Manchuria by train Aug. 13.

Col. Bab said there was no disturbance by other members of the Poles group.

The Pole was flown to Seoul, but the Army declined to say where he is.

Babb described him as handsome, about 160 pounds and standing 5-feet-8. He said Hajdukiewicz was wearing an olive drab uniform.

It was reported without confirmation that Hajdukiewicz has a mother and father in Poland.

Maj. Gen. Sven Grafstrom, chief of the Swedish delegation to the neutral nations supervisory commission, said the commission will meet Thursday at Panmunjom

Asked if he thought the Communists would protest the Pole's action, Grafstrom answered, "It could be."

The commission has jurisdiction over the truce inspection teams—which are charged with policing the armistice agreement in the field.

Democratic 'Politics'

Republicans Blast Back At Truman, Stevenson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans snapped back today at Democratic criticisms of foreign policy and at former President Truman's advice to his party members to quit supporting Eisenhower administration programs.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) said Truman's Labor Day assertion in Detroit that the time has come when the Democrats should "really go after that outfit down there in Washington and get 'em" represented an "entirely political reaction"

"It is a patent indication that the ex-President from Missouri is far more interested in his party's success in November 1954 than he is in the welfare of the country." Dirksen declared "It is in sharp contrast to the public service being rendered by another ex-President, Herbert Hoover."

In a separate interview, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) struck back at a statement by former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois that "book burning, McCarthyism and insistence upon conformity in thought" are damaging American prestige abroad.

"Stevenson still dislikes anyone who exposes the Communist infiltration in the old Acheson-Truman regime," McCarthy asserted. "He is still defending the purchase by the old Acheson-Truman crowd of Communist books to educate people abroad.

"His statements conclusively

Traffic Safety Aid Promised By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today promised support for an enlarged and intensive statewide campaign to curtail Ohio's traffic death toll.

At a conference with three members of President Eisenhower's safety conference, Lausche said he would study the possibility of naming a "governor's committee on safety" to integrate the efforts of all organizations now interested in preventing accidents.

The plan was suggested to the governor by Charles F. McCahill, senior vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co. of Cleveland, and general manager of the Cleveland News; William Richardson, executive vice president of the Goodrich Rubber Co. of Akron; and John Biggers, chairman of the board of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. of Toledo.

Also present at the conference, which lasted almost an hour and a half, were Scott Kallenbaugh, safety engineer of the state industrial commission; Col. George Mingle, head of the state highway patrol; Samuel O. Linzell, state highway director; and Harry Neal, head of the highway department's safety division.

Special Session Is Out, Speaker Of House Says

Rep. Martin Concedes Plenty of Work To Do Next Year, However

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass) today ruled out the possibility of a special session of Congress later this year but conceded "there will be plenty of work next year."

Visiting the Capitol for a few days, he told newsmen he was certain there would be no extra session this year.

He said earlier talk of a special session hinged on the belief the administration might regard it as necessary for Congress to boost the national debt limit, which it refused to do just before adjourning last month. Since then, however, administration fiscal experts have indicated that the present statutory debt limit of 275 billion dollars won't be reached this year.

Public Not Discontented

Martin said that during the month he has been away from Washington he found the people generally are not discontent with the Republican administration's policies and progress.

"The people are waiting and are willing to give President Eisenhower a chance to make good," he said. "They believe he has made a good start and will build up from the good foundation that has been laid. I find very little discontent."

Martin emphasized he does not believe Congress will renew next year the excess profits tax extended this year until next Jan. 1. And he said he is sure the presently scheduled 10 per cent cut in income taxes will become effective Jan 1 without any attempt being made to halt it.

Silent on New Revenue

"Those taxes are going off for sure," he said.

On the subject of what new revenue might be needed to replace tax drops due next year, Martin wouldn't comment. Congressional committees are studying the general tax picture now, he said, and will have recommendations later.

Taxes are likely to be among "the tough problems Congress must face next year," he said.

Other matters Congress will have to deal with in the election year include, he said, reciprocal trade agreements, extension of social security coverage, farm price supports and possibly revision of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law.

Communists Counter, Ask For 27,000

Act Quickly 'Or Else' Reds Told; Allied List Contains 944 Youths

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U.N. Command today accused the Communists of holding back 3,404 Allied war captives, including 944 Americans, and demanded a prompt accounting for all of them —"or else"

"We now demand that you return these people to us or account to us for each of these individuals," the chief Allied delegate to the Korean Armistice Commission told the Communists.

Demand Prompt Action

"We demand prompt action," he added.

Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan turned over a carefully documented list to the Reds at a 1 hour and 26 minute meeting of the commission.

Later he told newsmen the Reds must give an acounting "or else." He did not amplify.

He said the list of missing prisoners "includes only the names of people who spoke or were referred to over Communist radio broadcasts, were listed by the Reds as captives, wrote letters from North Korean camps or were seen "in stockades."

Reds Ask for 27,000

The Far East Comand said the list would not be released here, but in Washington. There, officials said they were doing all they could to speed release of the American names, but the list might not be available for two days.

The Communists said they reserved "the right to comment later," then countered with a demand for the return of 27,000 North Koreans released from Allied camps last June on orders from South Korea's President Syngman Rhee.

Bryan, dismissing the Red demand as "a blast," told his armistice commission counterpart:

"It is self evident we are not forcibly holding these people"

He told the Reds the U.N. list covered only men known to have been captured, who were not repatriated during Operation Big Switch, which ended Sunday.

"None of these people have been

British Report Launch Fired On, Some Hurt

LONDON (AP)—The Admiralty said a British naval launch was fired on in Hong Kong waters today and that casualties were suffered.

The terse Admiralty communique did not identify the attacking force.

A British destroyer was ordered out to remove the wounded sailors, the communique said.

The Admiralty announcement gave this report

'H. R. motor launch 1323, a vessel of the Hong Kong local defense force, reports having been fired on early this morning, as a result of which she sustained casualties.

"The destroyer H M. S. Concord has been ordered to embark the casualties and bring them to Hong Kong.

"Further information will be released as it becomes available and next of kin of casualties will be informed"

An Admiralty spokesman said the launch has a displacement of about 50 tons. First messages received from Hong Kong did not indicate how many men were aboard.

The 72-foot motor launch normally carries a crew of 14. She was built for seaward defense.

Boats of this class are armed with one three-pounder or one 40 MM gun, plus a 20 MM anti-aircraft gun.

The destroyer Concord, which raced to the scene was fired on herself by Red Chinese batteries in August, 1950, in the approaches to Hong Kong. She was not damaged.

Party Pledge Is Lively Issue For Democrats

'Loyalty' Oath May Be Scuttled To Calm Southern Opposition

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democratic party's so-called "loyalty" pledge appears a likely lively topic of debate at next week's meeting of national party leaders

Southern opposition to the "loyalty" oath was underlined yesterday when Gov Hugh White of Mississippi said he would ask the party s Executive Committee to hear his argument for scuttling it.

Some other Southern party leaders were expected to join White in denouncing the 'loyalty" oath which Northerners sought to apply at last year s national convention

The party leaders will be in Chicago for meetings Monday and Tuesday. The discussion on the "loyalty" pledge is expected to feature a public session Tuesday afternoon

Mayor Joseph Clark of Philadelphia is to president at the session, called a 'Forum on State, County and City Political Organizations"

White said in Jackson, Miss, last night that unofficially he had heard from Chicago that the "loyalty' oath issue might be sidestepped in the interest of party harmony with congressional elections only a year away

The Mississippi governor said his views on the 'loyalty' pledge actually would promote harmony His argument is that Southern Democrats will not be willing to give wholehearted support to the party until the 'loyalty' pledge is removed from convention rules.

Y Boys Assist in United Appeals Work

BOYS FROM THE YMCA served as volunteers in the preliminary work of the United Appeals Campaign by contacting businessmen in the suburban district, recently. Assisting was Marvin Ludwig, YMCA boys' work secretary, and cards were distributed to the boys by Cutler McGrew, campaign chairman. Left to right are: Ludwig, Ray Tillman, Larry Tierney, Keith Thackery, John Spangler, Jerry Wilhem, Dick Mounts, Jack Wierman and Sam Moore. Receiving the cards from the campaign chairman is Steve Allen.

The boys interviewed merchants and other business firms in regard to the number of employes and executives in the place of business in order to aid the campaign salesmen who will conduct the solicitation. The downtown area was canvassed earlier in the summer.

The pre-campaign survey, held for the first time, is designed to make the job of volunteer campaign salesmen more efficient and thorough. The data obtained by the boys will make it possible for the United Appeals staff to guarantee maximum campaign coverage.

On the completion of the survey, pledge cards were typed and campaign supplies made ready for coverage.

State Acts To Save Man So He Can Be Tried for Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The State of Arizona acted today to save Herman Nagle's life so he can stand trial for the slaying of his 28-year-old invalid daughter.

Nagle, 54, a retired Brooklyn, N.Y., policeman, was shackled to a bed at Memorial hospital, where doctors said his condition was "grave."

He was charged with the first-degree murder of his daughter, Betty Virginia, in their home Saturday.

Although the hospital refused to discuss his illness, Nagle said he learned he has cancer. He said he carried out a pact he made with his daughter to kill her if his own death seemed certain to come soon.

The daughter had suffered all her life from cerebral palsy.

NO JOB APPEAL

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UP)—The state is having a tough time finding a harbormaster for Wethersfield Cove—and understandably so. The official gets no pay and has no boat, but if he fails to enforce a six-mile-an-hour speed limit he may be asked to forfeit a $300 bond.

No One Injured In 4 Accidents

All Occur Inside City; None Reported in Area

Four no-injury accidents were investigated by city police Tuesday and this morning. None were reported to the highway patrol.

Rex Martin, 25, of 631 Patterson St. escaped injury early this morning when the car he was driving overturned after colliding with an auto at the corner of Patten St. and Ballentine Ave.

Martin was driving east on Patten St. when the car driven by Marvin E. Harvey, 27, of 655 Mary St. struck him in the intersection. Harvey was going north on Ballentine.

Both sides and the rear end of Martin's car were damaged. The front end of Harvey's car was smashed. Both cars had to be towed from the scene.

Harvey told police he was driving about 15 miles an hour. Martin said he was doing about 30 miles an hour when the two cars collided.

Bruce Roberts of 209 Forest St. was uninjured when he struck the front end of a car while riding a bicycle in the alley intersection behind the Nic Nac Sandwich Shop. He hit a car driven by Elmer L. Weimer, 59, of 524 Delaware Ave. who told police he had stopped his car.

The right front headlight of the automobile was broken. No damage was reported to the bicycle. The rider of the bike did not give police his age.

In an accident on Leader St near W. Center St. Tuesday at 12:05 p.m., the rear fender of a car driven by George B. Jonsson, 46, of 770 Oak Grove Ave. was damaged when hit by a car diven by Leo Workman, 32, of 587 Mary St. The front grill of Workman's car was damage.

A parked car was damaged when struck by a hit-skip driver in Garfield Park Tuesday morning at 9:30. The car was owned by Robert Higgins of 716 Darius St. The left front door was damaged when struck. Higgins could give no description of the other car.

Junk Dealer Had Good Reason To Keep Coat On

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—They used to kid old Alec Wembury about wearing his ragged winter overcoat right through the summer months. He would always reply:

"You can't trust the British weather."

Wembury, a 61-year-old junk dealer, dropped dead Monday while waiting for a bus. In the lining of his battered overcoat police found 3,600 pounds ($10,080) in cash.

REUNIONS

HOWELL

A reunion of the Howell family Sunday at Garfield Park marked the first time Charles Howell of Eds. Colo. had seen his two sisters and two of his three brothers in nearly half a century.

With Mrs. Howell he came to Ohio to attend the reunion and visit his former home at Chesapeake, O., and other places in the state and renew acquaintances with old friends.

A native of Chesapeake he came to Marion when he was 16 years old. He left here for the West 48 years ago. Engaged in railroad work he is now retired.

Joining him for the reunion were his brothers, Grover Howell of 231 Orchard St., W. S. Howell of Uncapher Ave., and Emanuel Howell of Chicago, and sisters, Mrs. Rachel Noble of Flint, Mich., and Mrs. Ethel Price of St. Clair, Mich. The brother in Chicago visited the Howells in Colorado about 10 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell plan to return to Marion the latter part of the week for an extended visit before returning home.

The brothers and sisters are from a family of 19 children.

Chinese Volunteers

In his policy - announcing speech to the American Legion last week, Secretary of State Dulles used these words:

"Communist China has been and now is training, equipping and supplying the Communist forces in Indo-China. There is the risk that, as in Korea, Red China might send its own army into Indo-China. The Chinese Communists should realize that such a second aggression could not occur without grave consequences which might not be confined to Indo-China. I say this soberly in the hope of preventing another aggressor miscalculation."

This statement has been interpreted as a move to put the Chinese Communists on the diplomatic defensive.

It has been viewed with enthusiasm or alarm, depending on whether the viewer felt one way or another about further intervention in Asiatic power politics.

But there is still another way of viewing it, and it may become the dominant way as the significance of the Dulles statement becomes more evident.

If Communist China already is training, equipping and supplying Communist forces in Indo-China, it needs only to send a volunteer army into the military struggle there to complete the picture. This would not be "Red China's own army," as designated by Secretary Dulles. It would be the "People's Volunteer Army," which is what it was in Korea —and still is.

Postscript on a Sensation

Before the story about those U.N. employes whose reinstatement and back-wage payments were recommended by the U.N. Administrative Tribunal reddens any more necks, there is a postscript to be added.

No sooner had the tribunal made its recommendation that U.N. baiters from coast to coast jumped to the conclusion that the recommendation would be adopted and put into effect. The Senate Internal Security subcommittee said it would reopen the whole case of subversion inside the U.N. Sen. McCarthy also blasted the situation. There was only one possibility of averting trouble.

The new secretary general of U.N., Dag Hammarskjold, could quiet everything down in a hurry by merely declining to follow the tribunal's recommendation. It was within his authority to do this. He did. Everything quieted down.

The four dismissed U.N. employes who were entitled to their jobs if they wanted them restored, according to the recommendation of the tribunal, will not be rehired. The employes whose back pay should be given to them—according to the tribunal—will not get any back pay unless the General Assembly ultimately decides to give it to them.

Mr. Hammarskjold seems to be in control of the situation.

Gentleman From Kentucky

Fred M. Vinson had many capabilities. One of them in particular set him apart from other public figures of his generation.

As chief justice of the United States, as a member of Congress and as an executive official of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, it was his vital function to keep peace in the political family.

He found satisfaction in doing this at a time when politics was especially angry and quarrelsome.

The secret of Fred Vinson's equanimity and good humor was obvious, though rare. He was at peace with himself. He was not torn by uncertainties and quarrels within his own mind. When he was in Congress, he presided imperturbably over the House Ways and Means Committee. When he was in the executive department he calmly directed economic stabilization, mobilization, conversion from mobilization and the Treasury Department, in turn. When he became chief justice, he quieted the judicial whirlwinds of associates with clashing viewpoints.

It was the fixed conviction of many of Mr. Vinson's contemporaries in both political parties that he earned more gratitude for his public service than he ever collected. Anyone can start a quarrel, but it takes a rare genius to patch one up. Fred Vinson was that kind of a genius.

Meaning of a Free Election

Most commentaries about the near-landslide for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's coalition candidates in the elections of the West German Republic have stressed the results as a decisive stand of the republic's 48,700,000 population in favor of U.S. wishes and against Russia's wishes.

Yet the vote may not prove a crystal-clear mandate of such nature, as the election picture is analyzed further. Of happier significance to the Free World—and to Russia and to the East Germans dominated by Russia — is the undoubted fact that the West Germans showed their compatriots in East Germany what is meant by a free election. Also important is the fact that many more West Germans voted this time than in the prior election—and Germans, long accustomed to monarchy, are even more apathetic about the ballot than are Americans.

Triumph for Democracy

By David Lawrence

American Leadership in Ascendancy

Any news that shows the way to peace in the world is big news and good news — and that's why the election in Germany has a significance far beyond the borders of that country.

For by an overwhelming majority the people of Western Germany have voted to take their place on the side of the democracies as a bulwark of opposition to Communist imperialism—checking it at the very threshold of its threatened advance into Western Europe.

The prestige of the United States which some gullible American tourists returning from abroad have assumed was at a low ebb is actually running at the highest tide since the close of World War II.

For plainly the German people have chosen to support the American proposal for a European Defense Army as against the "neutralists" who wanted to let Germany operate as a fluctuating and unreliable influence first on one side and then on the other.

In many respects the result of Sunday's German election is the most important event since the last war. It shows that a people which bore the burden of a disastrous war bears no enmity toward the nations which sent conquering armies into and bomber planes over their land.

It shows that the policy of open-handed friendship — which has been the consistent effort of the United States under both the Truman and the Eisenhower administrations — toward the German people has yielded its greatest moral triumph.

The German election could be a spectacular lesson to the people of Soviet Russia and to the peoples of the satellite countries. American leadership has been firmly insistent that only by joining together former foes and friends in a community for self-protection can economic and political and military unity be achieved.

Moscow thought that by its threats it could dissuade the people of Western Germany to take no sides. The Soviets must be devoid of a sense of humor for in their official newspaper "Pravda," they complain that the election in Germany wasn't "free" but was carried on under conditions of "crude pressure." One wonders since when the Soviets have become experts in free elections.

The result of the voting in Germany reveals that both the party of the former Nazis and the Communist Party were wiped out by failing to poll the minimum vote needed for party recognition.

This will surely have a profound effect on soviet diplomacy. For Moscow cannot commit itself now to a 'disunited Germany by threatening to build up East Germany's government.

That could make a deep-seated issue among the 18,000,000 Germans living in that area. Moscow, on the other hand, cannot call now for an election under a phony "all-German" government with any confidence that a government of Communist stripe will emerge.

The Soviet regime has been dealt a serious blow and the encouragement which the election will give to rebellious elements in the satellite countries will be immeasurably great.

Chancellor Adenauer emerges moreover, as one of the greatest statesmen of the post-war period. This correspondent, who interviewed him in Bonn in May of last year, found him just at meticulous in his expressions of regard for President Truman and for the leaders of the Republican party.

The German chancellor showed in every way his fidelity to the cause of democratic government and to the importance of aligning his government and his people with their friends in the United States.

In government circles, in business circles, even among Socialists privately, the importance of getting closer to America was always emphasized.

Chancellor Adenauer will offer the olive branch of peace to the Soviet people but at the same time will urge the rearmament of his country in conformity with the European defense treaty which will doubtless be ratified soon.

His election victory will challenge the governments of France and Italy to a similar manifestation of support for the European Defense Agreement.

Germany has done her part toward European unity in a spectacular demonstration of popular approval. What will France do now?

So long as there is a democratic republic in Germany there can be no danger for France inasmuch as the composition of the European Defense Army would make impossible a rebirth of Nazi militarism.

The election victory in Germany was a triumph for the cause of freedom in the world. Americans, irrespective of party, can rejoice that American leadership in the world has been dramatically demonstrated to be in the ascendancy.

More Curbs for the Military?

By Mark Dana

The Executive Order by which President Eisenhower has set up within the National Security Council a new Operations Coordinating Board will surely be received by our Allies and potential foes—and one hopes it will be so received—as further evidence that while we are talking peace we are remaining geared to war.

The National Security Council itself, was set up in March, 1952, (1) to assess and make recommendations to the President in all matters relating to our military activities, and (2) to coordinate functions of all military and other Goverenment agencies concerned with our security. The Secretary of Defense is among the top members of the Council, and high officials of the service branches have adisory affiliations with it.

On the surface, the new unit merely forms into an executive committee some officials already heading units of the Council, including Central Intelligence Agency Allen W. Dulles; Foreign Operations Administrator Harold E. Stassen (formerly Mutual Security head,) and the office of Secretary Defense—represented in the new unit by Deputy Secretary Roger M. Kyes.

Yet a significant newcomer, and head of the new unit, is General Walter Bedell Smith, increasingly a confidant of the President.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is ex officio a member of the main Council. Considering prior developments, and the way Secretary Dulles has been speaking forth lately on all security and military matters, it seems likely that the Council, guided by this new executive unit, will continue to subordinate the voices and prestige of the Army, Navy and Air Force military leaders already overshadowed by civilians.

Abolition of the Psychological Strategy Board was a technical detail. The professed objective of this further step in reorganizing and tightening up the military establishment is to substitute deeds for words, to replace mere plans with actions, to re-gear our armed forces during the uneasy truce period to more effective strategy if war should break out anew. As we now are waging a diplomatic rather than bulelt war, only professional soldiers should protest the increasing emphasis on —and hopes vested in—non-shooting rivalry.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

It's a Trend

If industrial leaders take to posing in the Napoleonic attitude these days, it is excusable. Our top generals are getting into the big business act.

Gen. Omar Bradley, retiring as our top army man, has taken a job with Bulova Watch .Gen. MacArthur went with an adding machine and safety razor corporation. Scores of other army and navy men have joined American industrial organizations.

It is getting so you are not sure when the band strikes up "Hail To The Chief," whether you are present at a military review or a Chamber-of-Commerce meeting.

The song, "Old soldiers never die; they just fade away," is a dead duck, unless the fade-away means a top job in a leading industry at a fat salary and surrounded by photographers. Years ago, when a general wound up his career, rheumatism, gout or hardening of the arteries had a lot to do with it. He was apt to be old and ready for the carpet slippers.

Today, they seem to retire in such wonderful shape that corporations go after them with "boy-wanted" ads. If you desire a famous general in a hurry these days you phone the Businessmen's Club or get in contact with a Kiwanis luncheon. We often wonder just how difficult the generals find it to make the transition.

How one feels showing up in a business suit with soft hat and getting no salute? . . . How he feels sitting down at a desk with no maps and no red and white thumbtacks? . . . How it seems to go a whole day without a mention of the Pentagon, Moscow, Panmumjom, or the State Department? . . . The relief it must be to dictate a letter without wondering whether President Syngman Rhee will go along with it.

It is our belief a general has to be briefed carefully on the attitude toward stenographers and office boys. A sharp order may get results in the Army, but the office help won't take any abrupt commands these days. Remember, too, general, that if your secretary elopes and skips off to Nigara without notice she is not AWOL and subject to court martial.

The switch from the mood of the armed forces to that of the Rotary Club must be difficult. We can imagine how a general feels when, as a business official, he makes a few remarks and somebody chirps, "You're missing the target. You just don't seem to grasp the objective."

Of course, there are some compensations. Once out of the Army and in business a general can ride in the subway with his socks down, take a walk in his shirtsleeves, be photographed asleep in a porch hammock and even make appearances around the neighborhood in an old straw hat and sneakers. And he can go to a nightclub in a plaid vest, a painted tie and a shirt with polka dots. One thing bothers us, General . . . How does the army food compare with the Businessmen's Lunch?

"I will swap thermostat, handsaw and gasoline torch for accordion," advertises a man in Yankee Magazine . . . (Careful, bub, you can carry versatility too far.) . . . A companion ad reads "Wanted: Baby skunk, will swap peacock feathers and cotton ball." . . . (Are you sure you aren't giving way to a passing whim?).

Arthur Godfrey is a likable big-hearted guy but he never bothers to acknowledge nice tributes from newspapermen, and his staff is equally indifferent . . .

Success Story

By TRUMAN TWILL

The time is 2000 A.D. Dwight David Tomlinson, who was so named because he was born in 1952, has made good.

The publicity specialists of Atomized Breakfast Cereal Division of the Energy Foundation, which has just made him its president is grinding out the customary grist of information about old DDT.

He was born of poor but proud parents under the Blue Cross plan in the lying - in section of a 40-million-dollar hospital in the TVA area of America. When he was 48 hours old they took him home to their walk-up apartment in a half-finished homes-for-tomorrow allotment near Knoxville, Tenn.

It was a rough frontier -- like existence.

Like other children of the time, he had no luxuries. He ate all his meals out of cans and freezers, swam in a pool without underwater illumination and attended a public school in which only one teacher, except the principal, had a doctor's degree in the theory of education.

His first job, he recalls, was rubbing chalk marks off the tires of helicopters which had been parked too long on the commuter aprons of a nearby airport. For this he received the princely sum of a dollar a fix and rarely made more than a hundred dollars a day.

But being an ambitious lad, full of radio - activity and the right hormones, D. D. persevered. Though forced to leave school early, at the age of 32, with only a master's degree and 18 years of teaching fellowships in five universities situated in different areas of the world, he already had made up his mind to become a great industrialist. He had a cousin in the procurement division of the air force.

After three years of special training in vocational education department of the University of East Snohomish, he landed his first job with Inter-Planetary Can Corp. "I shall never forget that first month's pay check if I live to be sixty," he declared when putting on his presidential robes for the first time in the ceremonial cloisters of ABCDEF. "It was only one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars before taxes! For the first five years I worked with Inter-Planetary Can I scarcely kept the Internal Revenue Bureau from the door. But then I began to understand that was the way America had been built — by sheer courage.

"Things are easier now than they were when I was a mere lad. But I am not sure they are turning out for the best. I have talked with many young men lately who think they should be able to own their own stratoferries and bathospheres before they are thirty. Why shucks, when I was thirty I hadn't even been to the moon on a commercial flight!

"Just tell the world that D. D. Tomlinson says everybody should keep the "fission line" busy, ho, ho, and the world way of life as we have known it will be safe from the purple forces of Mars. When I was a mere tad — and a mere tax exemption — my old man used to fight the red forces of Marx. Today it's purple and it's Mars — but we're still fighting!"

Good old DDT. Sound as a nut, that boy. Be the best president Atomized Breakfast Cereal Department of the Energy Foundation has had since science learned how to extract nutrition from bilgewater.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Rev. Samuel D. Bates, native of New York State, was a school teacher before entering the ministry in 1851. He came to Marion in the spring of 1857 and took charge of the Free Will Baptist Church, presiding as pastor for 19 years. He organized the Grand Prairie Free Will Baptist Church Feb. 22, 1867 and the Claridon Church three years later. He served as pastor of the Green Camp Baptist Church for nine years.

Benjamin P. Dutton, a native of the state of Delaware, was born Aug. 26, 1829 and moved to Big Island Township with his parents in 1835. Wolves, wildcats and deer roamed the forests near his home and many of these were killed by his father. He began working for himself at the age of 17 years, laboring by the month or day for 10 years. After acquiring a farm he became interested in horses owning two very fine animals "English Glory" and "Heenan." In his day he was credited with clearing 125 acres of forest land.

Adieu to a Friend

By Frank Tripp

Maybe I'll come to like the siren of a Diesel as much as the whistle of a locomotive, but I doubt it. There's something missing in the drone that was present in the shriek. It sounds funereal to lovers of the steam engine.

Every siren blast, to them, is a mournful reminder that the panting iron horse soon will become an exhibit in a museum, beside the covered wagon and the oxcart.

WHAT A DISPLAY it could be of the 125 years that steam ruled. There'd be the Rocket, the Mason, the Hinkley, woodburners like my grandfather ran; then the Murdock, the Baldwin, the Brooks, on which my father started his half century as an engineer; which extended into days of the Mother Hubbard, the Camelback, the Mogul, the Mallet; then the Mastodon, the Mikado, the Pacific, the Prairie, and the later giant types that the Diesel pushed out.

To the next generation they'll be "freaks," as will the early Diesels that replaced them. Won't matter much. We who lament will be freaks too, or passed on, leaving small trace of the awe in which we held the massive power monsters of our day.

MY DAD resented the internal combustion engine, as I resent the Diesel, yet bow to it. I had the crank case off my first automobile installing a new connecting rod bearing. Pop was 71 then, had just retired; it was 40 years ago.

He struggled down upon the creeper and rolled himself under the car for his first look inside an automobile motor. He looked for fully five minutes, then bellowed, "That's a hell of an engine!"

"What's wrong with it?" I asked.

"It's only got one end; it's half an engine," he said.

He meant that, compared to steam, every laternate revolution is wasted in the compression stroke. He never accepted the gasoline engine, didn't trust it. Most of the time he rode in a car with the door open and one foot on the running board.

He contended to his death that "no one-ended engine will ever replace steam on the railroads." He didn't live to see the Diesel-electric prove him wrong. What have the jet and atomic energy in store for the future?

MOST OF OUR youngest children will grow up never having seen a steam locomotive in action; nor a trolley car. They won't care. Already they are bestowing their admiration upon the "imposter." It palls me.

The last job I had before joining a newspaper 52 years ago was as engineer for the Little Giant Railroad in Rorick's Glen Park. My engine was the 999, a miniature replica of that famed New York Central speed demon.

She handled 10 tiny open cars, carrying two passengers each, over a third of a mile of 20-inch gauge track. When she tipped over, as she twice did, three of us could right her without losing her fire.

She was a strong little bugger, One day when she blew a cybnder head, I blocked her ports, disconnected the main rod and she ran all day on one side, not missing a trip.

NOW EVERY WEEK I pass a lakeside park where kids gather about a miniature Diesel, bestowing the affection that belonged to the 999. It stings the pride of the only Tripp of three generations who didn't live his life with steam locomotives, yet always loved them.

Maybe today's youngsters have as much fun, but they pay 25 cents for the ride that kids got behind the 999 for a nickel, and have less to show for it. There are no cinders in their hair, no soot on their pretty summer clothes.

Cleanliness is one of many firsts for the Diesel over the steam engine — but I'm homesick for the dirty old devils just the same.

Atomic Shelter

CANBERRA (AP)—Australia soon will have its first shelter for protection against atomic blast and radiation. The shelter will be the sub-basement of the Commonwealth Secretariat building in Canberra, 300 yards from Parliament House.

Its sub-basement, 25 feet below ground, will provide a store for tons of Commonwealth records and also will provide a shelter from an atomic attack for thousands of people.

Stassen Indicates U.S. Aid to Europe Near End

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, director of foreign aid, at a news conference attached a quiet footnote to one of the tremendous experiments in history.

The conference was held in a businesslike room in the old State Department Building: plenty of fluorescent lighting and chairs ranged around a long, well-shined mahogany table.

At one end of the room a painted map of the world covered the wall from floor to ceiling. Huge economic charts of the nations of the world covered both sides.

These charts, in frames and on rollers, had been pushed back out of sight behind long curtains. One of Stassen's public relations men said the charts were "classified" and therefore the newsmen could not see them.

Stassen himself later displayed one of the big charts to prove, he said, that Western Europe was doing extremely well, economically.

Stassen had called the conference yesterday not to talk about Europe but to discuss his reorganization of the Foreign Operations Administration (FOA).

He had begun his career in the Eisenhower administration as director of the old Mutual Security Agency, which handled foreign aid.

For the sake of economy and to dovetail some of this country's foreign aid programs, President Eisenhower had asked Congress to let him change MSA to FOA and to bring two other agencies under its tent.

These were the Point Four program—giving foreign countries technical assistance, such as in health and farming—and an agency which provided Point Four guidance to South American countries.

Congress let Eisenhower go ahead. Stassen became head of FOA. In a move to economize he gave 350 employes dismissal notices last week. Many of them didn't take it well and said they had been "Stassenated." In the lobby they set up a coffin (an empty filing cabinet), dropped into it their "RIF"—reduction in force—notices, and draped it with white gauze and carbon paper to look like black crepe.

This was Stassen's first news conference since that demonstration. He had said publicly he regretted the firings but had no other course because Congress ordered that reductions be made.

His public relations man handed out a chart on a sheet of paper 12 by 18 inches—a tidy grouping of lines and boxes—which showed the new chain of command in FOA.

Each box contained the title of a top FOA official, or the next to top, and the job he had to do. Lines connected the boxes until all the lines led to Stassen and the President.

The news conference was a little anticlimactic since it had been learned days ago what the major changes in FOA would be. Stassen said they would become effective Oct. 1.

It was hardly more than a routine news conference until, near the end, Stassen was asked if he thought this country would have to continue giving economic aid to Western Europe after next July 1, the beginning of a new fiscal year.

Stassen said he thought very little, if any, because Western Europe has been making such good progress. He said production is 4 per cent higher than any time in Western Europe's history.

In that air-conditioned room, where the exchange between Stassen and the newsmen had been on an easy and casual plane, this statement about Western Europe sounded like the fine print at the end of an historic page.

The newsmen departed, without hurrying. But six years ago when Secretary of State George C. Marshall had suggested his plan of economic aid for Europe there was a shock of excitement here and in Europe.

Marshall suggested the help to get Europe up off its back, economically, and stop the rush of communism. Here and in the European capitals men began to work strenuously on what Western Europe needed and this country could afford.

No one knew, there could only be hope, whether the Marshall Plan would work. If it didn't, if Europe went to pieces, communism had clear sailing. After six years, Stassen was able to say this country's aid for Europe had worked very well, indeed.

Depression Talk Heard

Organized Labor May Seek Job Security Next

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Annual wages for the factory worker as well as the white collar man could be the next big—and possibly bitter—battle in the labor field.

The tip-off that job security is coming to top higher hourly pay rates in the worker's eyes might be found in the recent break in the stock market. It has multiplied hitters over a feared dip later on in production, and therefore in jobs, in basic industriees such as steel, autos and appliances.

Should such a dip materialize it mean layoffs. And labor leaders realize their men can't make their new and higher wage scales go far at the grocery store if the factory is shut down.

In previous years, with the economy on the upgarde, labor negotiators asked for the guaranteed annual wage, but they settled for wage increases instead. Now they are more nervous about layoffs.

But if it thinks a slump is coming, management naturally is going to be just that less willing to commit itself to paying for a year's work if the work may not be done.

Walter Reuther has given notice he'll ask for a guaranteed annual wage for his CIO United Auto Workers.

"When a company has to pay a guaranteed annual wage," he argues, "it will do something about stopping layoffs." He sees production falling and layoffs the order of the day "if the purchasing power of the people isn't increased.."

Management has its stake in steady production, too. Full production schedules every working day make for complete and efficient use of a company's facilities, as the American Institute of Management, of New York, points out. It holds: "Unemployment and uncertainty are factors too large for managements interested in survival to take lightly any longer."

The institute sees both advantages and disadvantages in an annual wage for production workers.

If the peaks and valleys of production and employment can be leveled off, the loss of idle machinery is cut. Stabilization also reduces the risk of high labor turnover and the cost of training new workers to work harder to keep gests the guarantee might increase productivity by removing worry.

But it says there's also the chance that job insecurity leads workers to work arder to keep a job. Other disadvantages it mentions are that the guarantee's fixed costs would raise the break - even point in many industries and increase the mortality rate of businesses.

And, of course, a serious recession could mean a drop in demand for the company's products that would dry up the sales out of which the fixed annual wages would have to be paid.

Denver's Escape-Proof Jail Is Not So Tough

DENVER — New bars were welded yesterday into the visitor's window of Denver's "escape-proof" city jail, following the jail's first escape since it was built 13 years ago.

Clay M. Robinson, 18, of Denver, who had been arrested on a vagrancy count Monday, was still at large.

He had smashed through a plate glass and wire window and then fast-talked his way down the elevator and out of the building.

Police termed it not a real break but only a "mixup."

30,000 To Get Polio Vaccine In Minnesota

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — Thirty thousand children start lining up today for anti-polio shots and lollipops

The shots of scarce gamma globulin are expected to reverse the upward trend of polio cases in Minnesota's Stearns and Benton counties, which meet here

The lollipops will be recompense for needle pricks to be administered by more than 50 doctors and scores of nurses who have volunteered for the nation's 15th mass inoculation project

Health authorities are aiming at inoculation of all boys and girls 3 months through 14 years of age in the two counties and the part of Sherburne County within St. Cloud

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis provided 231,000 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin for the area on appeal of local health authorities last Friday. The globulin was flown to Minnesota from the East last weekend and will be injected at 11 clinics within the next six days.

State Health Department records show that Stearns County, with a population of 70,687 in the last census, has had 110 polio cases this year, and Benton, with a population of 15,911, 18 cases. One death has occurred

On a percentage basis, the area has been the hardest hit in Minnesote this year

Through yesterday, there were 1,254 cases and 50 deaths reported in the state compared with 1,370 cases and 70 deaths in 1952. Case totals for the past three weeks respectively, have been 184, 179 and 181.

The death rate from disease among U S Navy and Marine personnel in the Korean war was lower than during the peacetime years 1946 to 1949.

Carpenters Go Back With AFL

Union Will Rejoin Federation, Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The carpenters union came back into the American Federation of Labor today.

A joint statement issued by AFL President George Meany and Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and joiners, said at a conference held here today agreement was reached for the union to "continue" in the federation.

It had withdrawn at a meeting in Chicago last month ostensibly in response to AFL action in agreeing to a no-raiding pact with the CIO. Hutcheson at that time protested that first attention should go to the question of raiding within the AFL itself. His union has had numerous disputes with other organizations over jurisdictional matters and the issue of raiding.

That was the crux of today's agreement, which provided that a no-raiding plan shall be presented at the federation convention opening in St. Louis Sept. 21.

Crawford County Gets First GOP Treasurer

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Crawford County today had its first Republican county treasurer in its history. He is Harry T. Jackson, , former operator of a service station in Galion.

Jackson took office here yesterday, succeeding Mrs. Mae L. Kloepfer, Bucyrus Democrat, and veteran courthouse observers believe he is the only Republican ever to hold the office. At the general election last November, he defeated T. Clinton Kiess, Bucyrus Democrat.

Mrs. Kloepfer, who had been treasurer 12 years and a deputy in the office for 10 years preceding her relection, will be retained as chief deputy.

Only change in office personnel is the employment of Mrs. Mary Pfahler of New Washington. She succeeds Mrs. Joseph Ausberger, who retired after 35 years' service as a county employe.

CLASS PLANS REUNION

CAREY—Plans are being made for the first reunion of the Carey High School class of 1943 to be held Sunday, Sept. 13, in the shelter house at Carey Memorial Park. A potluck dinner will be served at 12:30. Mrs. Bernard Mahler of Perrysburg, the former Glenna Ruffing, is sending invitations to all of the classmates whose addresses she has been able to learn, and Bernard Karcher is in charge of local arrangements.

A gourmet-style meal with the greatest of ease, this one. Tasty enough for your most important guest and so easy to prepare, this chicken dinner will earn you a reputation as the neighborhood's cleverest hostess.

CHICKEN BREASTS SUPREME

Ingredients: 2 (12 oz.) boxes frozen chicken breasts, 1 (10½ or 11-oz.) can cream of mushroom soup, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, ¼ cup grated American cheese.

Method: Combine soup, seasonings and milk in large skillet. Mix well and bring to a boil over low heat. Add frozen chicken breasts. It is not necessary to thaw them for this recipe. Cover and cook over low heat 13 minutes. Uncover and with forks carefully separate pieces.

Place flesh side down in sauce. Recover and continue cooking 20 to 25 minutes, or until tender. When ready to serve, place pieces in a flat casserole and pourover sauce from skillet. Sprinkle over cheese. Place under broiler long enough to melt and lightly brown cheese. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Loss $500,000 In Canton Fire

200 Men Fight Blaze, Moose Building Gutted

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Firemen still poured water today into the ruins of the Moose Building, a half a block from public square, in the aftermath of a $500,000 blaze.

Fire Chief William Rosche, who estimated the loss, said the fire had its beginning in the kitchen of the Wheel Cafe, and spread quickly through floor boards into other sections of the building.

Twenty pieces of fire fighting equipment and 200 firemen, 60 of them auxiliaries, were used in the battle against the flames.

The building contained a Moose clubroom, the cafe, an electric company, and a bowling alley.

Oklahoma Widens Grounds for Divorce

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A new law making incompatibility grounds for divorce finds Oklahomans quick to grasp the opportunity.

This is disclosed in the rash of petitions which cite the new grounds, permitting decrees without the lengthy bill of particulars common to such suits.

Why, the new divorce suits are almost friendly, courthouse officials observed.

SCHOOL GIRL HIT, DIES

CINCINNATI (AP)—Virginia Long, 16, a high school junior, was hit by a car and fatally injured last night when she attempted to cross a Cincinnati street.

Hornsby Is Named Sole Beneficiary In Secretary's Will

CHICAGO (AP) — A will naming Rogers Hornsby as sole beneficiary of the estate of Mrs. Bernadette Ann Harris, his personal secretary and friend who committed suicide, was found in a safe deposit box yesterday in a North Side bank.

A representative of the Illinois attorney general's office also found $25,000 in currency in the box. Police investigators earlier had discovered a bank book showing Mrs. Haris had deposited nearly $29,000 in a Loop bank in less than two years.

Mrs. Harris, 55-year-old divorcee plunged to her death from her third floor apartment Monday. A coroner's jury decided she committed suicide "while temporarily insane due to despondency."

Hornsby, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, testified at the inquest that she had been depressed and nervous and believed she was losing her sight, voice and hearing.

"I think she took her own life," the 57-year-old baseball manager told the jury. "She feared she would be put in an institution. I told her that as far as I was concerned that would never happen."

Youngstown Banker's Death Is Under Probe

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Coroner David A. Belinky today was investigating the death of Richard P. Bremer, a wealthy banking and rubber official, who was found in his bedroom yesterday with a bullet wound in his body.

The coroner would not say wether a weapon was found or whether he believed the wound was self inflicted. He told a reporter, "just say I'm investigating."

The 62-year-old Bremer, reportedly in poor health, was a director of the Union National Bank here and president of the Central Rubber & Iron Co. of Findlay.

GI Softball Team's Gag Starts Hot Rumor

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Members of a softball team from the U. S. repair ship Romulus created quite a stir when they told opponents the "ARL" on their uniforms stood for "atomic rocket launcher."

They hinted the potent new weapon might be aboard the Romulus in Inchon harbor.

The rumor spread so rapidly that U. S. Navy officials announced formally today that the Navy has no atomic rocket launcher—in Inchon harbor or anywhere.

ARL, incidentally, stands for auxiliary repair, landing ships.

Springfield, Missouri, Has King Cobra Scare

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—King cobras usually are found in India, but people have reported seeing them around here lately and they're getting worried.

They've even stocked up on cobra serum, flown here from Florida.

The latest of a series of six snakes was found last night by 10-year-old Vicki Soloman. She and her dad said they thought it was a cobra. But a pet shop owner, who took the snake away, said he thought it was a common bull snake.

A snake found Aug. 22 started the entire commotion. A high school science teacher identified it as a king cobra. Finders of the other snakes also said they believed they were cobras.

BEATS SLOTS WITH MAGNETS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Small-change gamblers were giving operators of pin ball machines shocks today. To be more exact, some men are using magnets to steer the metalic balls to the payoff spots in the machines. The magnets are powerful enough to operate through leather and glass, police reported.

High Temperatures Distort Weather Picture in Marion

High temperatures before the break of the heat wave last week caused a distortion of the weather picture in Ohio as released by the weather bureau department of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Columbus.

The figures released showed that Marion had temperatures for the week ending Sept. 8 which were four degrees above normal for this time of year.

Temperatures near 100 degrees for several days, preceding the mass of cool air which cooled things off, were responsible for pushing the weekly temperature above the normal readings

A little over a third of an inch of rain fell in the Marion area over the week end bringing an end to nearly three weeks of drought.

The official recorded total was .33 of an inch of rainfall. This compares with the 02 of an inch recorded in the previous week and the absolute absence of precipitation during the preceding two weeks. Normal rainfall for the week is one-half to one inch.

Delaware Employment Office To Close Doors

Delaware was among 10 Ohio cities where some 200 employes were due to be released and employment offices closed because of a budget deficiency, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation announced today.

Ernest Cornell, BUC administrator, said the measures would be necessary because the bureau must operate in the 1953-54 fiscal year on a half-million dollar smaller budget than the previous year. Congress cut more than $19,630,000 in its appropriation to the various states for operating expenses of administration of unemployment compensation laws.

Other employment offices to be closed are at Bellefontaine, Greenville, Hillsboro, London, Niles, Kent, Troy, Barberton and Tiffin.

New Post Created For PMA Offices

A new job in the Production and Marketing Administration Office in Marion County was opened today as the federal government began to carry out a program announced last March.

The new job will be that of office manager. He will be responsible for administrative and some field work in the office.

Frank Montgomery, agent at the Marion County PMA office, said this morning no applications for the position have been received yet.

He said the man who took the job would be responsible for the administrative work in the office and for doing some of the field research in the matter of loan applications, wheat quotas and acreage allotments on the various farms in the county.

Similar posts are being opened in all the 88 counties throughout the state, The Associated Press reports.

Under the new setup, the county PMA committee will deal only with the setting of policy leaving the administrative work to the new man.

The new posts are being set up on a national scale. Appointment to the new office is to be made by the county committee.

Salary scales for the job will vary, depending on the amount of work the office manager will do

It is estimated there is enough timber in U. S. forests to build a six room house for every man, woman and child in the nation and have lumber left over.

52 'Miss America' Contestants Begin Title Quest Today

ATLANTIC CITY, N J (AP)—Fifty-two beautiful girls take to the stage tonight and begin competing in earnest for the "Miss America of 1954" crown and the $50,000 in awards that goes with it.

Ten judges will watch the girls go through their paces on the first of three nights of competition for beauty and talent on the huge Convention Hall stage.

One third of the contestants will appear in evening gowns, another third in bathing suits, and the rest will do their little specialties of singing, dancing or acting.

It will be the same tomorrow night and Friday night, until all the girls appeared on a float in pear in all three contests. The finals will be held Saturday night

A colorful parade on the boardwalk yesterday served to introduce the Miss America hopefuls to thousands of spectators Each of the girls appeared on a float in alphabetical order according to states.

Conscience Hurts, So Man Turns in 2 Bills

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Two partially burned bills were mailed to Police Chief Carl Heustis with this explanation·

"My conscience wouldn't let me keep these bills"

The anonymous letter writer said the money was picked up at the scene of a fatal auto crash last Saturday.

Chief Heustis said the $30 will be turned over to the coroner's office for disposition.

LOST PARENTS

MONTVILLE, Conn (UP)—Mr and Mrs William E Mulvaney went looking for their children who failed to return from a berry-picking expedition. The kids found their way back to the family car before dark, but it wasn't until the following noon that the sheepish parents were found in some woods where they had been lost all night.

Politics

prove the wisdom of the American people when they rejected his bid for the presidency last fall," McCarthy said.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, said in an interview with Newsweek magazine that the United States needs "a clearer and more consistent policy" in foreign affairs.

"Our allies are bewildered when we warn them of the Communist menace one day and slash our defense budget the next, and when it appears that our 'trade, not aid' policy will deny them both trade and aid," he said.

Stevenson also complained that Democratic participation in foreign policy affairs had been "utterly obliterated" by the Republicans.

Sounds Like Politics

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Stevenson's criticisms of present foreign policies "sounds like politics to me."

"The governor's remarks don't add any strength to our bipartisan foreign policy," Wiley observed. "I don't believe we intend to desert those policies.

"We can disagree at home but when we leave the shore all Americans unite in what is defined as American foreign policy"

Stevenson said he thinks international actions of the Eisenhower administration may be a "likely target" for attack by the Democrats in next year's congressional campaign. He said he hopes such attacks are constructive and not limited to charges of "bungling, which was a favorite expression of the Republicans a year ago."

May Have Jumped Gun

Truman may have jumped the gun on Democratic congressional leaders in urging party members to go after the Eisenhower administration In this year's session, Democrats generally claimed they furnished the votes to put over many Eisenhower proposals on which the Republicans were split.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) and Sen Lyndon B Johnson (D-Tex), House and Senate minority leaders, have given no clear signs yet that they are ready to abandon their policy of going along with the new administration on many issues, especially in foreign affairs.

Some of their Democratic colleagues may be getting restive under this soft-pedaling program, and Truman's prodding could have an effect on changing it.

Smooth Bandit Trio Gets $70,000 in Furs

NEW YORK (AP)—Three bandits held up a fur company yesterday, leisurely spent an hour selecting $70,000 in choice furs and, after they fled, arranged to have a Western Union messenger free their victims.

The well-dressed trio sauntered into the Philip Buchberg Fur Corp, tied up three employes, picked the furs and fled with their loot plus $950 cash taken from the employes

Just as the employes managed to untie themselves, a Western Union messenger appeared to "pick up a message" Police said the robbers put in the call, apparently to make sure their victims would not be tied up too long.

reported by you as having escaped or died," Bryan added.

Others on List

The list, in addition to the Americans, included 2,410 South Koreans, 19 British, 9 Australians, 8 South Africans, 3 Canadians, 3 Belgians, 5 Turks, 2 Colombians and 1 Greek.

Bryan told the Reds the list "exceeds the number whom you have stated do not desire repatriation by about 3,100."

The Communists say about 300 Koreans and 20 non-Koreans do not want to return to their homelands.

Allied and Communist POWs who refused repatriation during Operation Big Switch will be turned over to a five-nation repatriation commission During that time U.N. and Red officers will try to convince them to return.

The first of about 7,800 North Korean prisoners who spurned repatriation began the trip from Koje Island off Korea's south coast to the demilitarized zone near Panmunjom, where they will be guarded by Indian troops while their fate is decided.

Head Northward

Waving South Korean flags and singing national songs, 570 POWs arrived at Pusan and boarded trains for the journey northward.

The vanguard of 14,500 reluctant Chinese prisoners, meanwhile, arrived at Inchon Harbor from POW camps on Cheju Island A Navy transport carrying 1,500 Chinese dropped anchor late Wednesday and another ship with 500 aboard was due a few hours later.

The 1,900 will be unloaded Thursday and sent by train to the demilitarized zone.

Another 1,900 Chinese left Cheju Wednesday by ship and were expected to reach Inchon Thursday night

The Koreans left Koje in orderly fashion Many wore headbands stamped with the Republic of Korea emblem and reading, "Advance north for unification"

They will be joined by officers from Poland and Czechoslovakia who will make the trip to the demilitarized zone from Communist China.

Korean War Vet Is Saved From Fatal Leap in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A quick-moving police captain grabbed a lonely, love-sick Korean War veteran who threatened for 35 minutes today to jump off the high level bridge over the Cuyahoga River.

The 21-year-old veteran, who was not named, told police:

"Nobody loves me—I have no friends"

"It sounds crazy—but I was lonely," he continued. "I kept thinking of the girl who double-crossed me and married somebody else while I was in Korea. . .I'm disappointed in myself. I should be settled down with a good job"

The captain who made the rescue was William F. Zimmerman, one of 18 policemen, 10 firemen and a Coast Guard crew called to the bridge connecting Detroit and Superior Aves.

Firemen manned nine-foot life nets on a street under the bridge and when the young man moved out over the water the Coast Guard was called.

Capt. Zimmerman grabbed him just as he let go of the railing

The veteran—injured in a Korean tank accident—had been treated for combat fatigue since his discharge from the Army.

McCarthy told a reporter "it is not yet definite —I'm not at all certain I could spare the time"—but that he has discussed the plan with some persons who have offered to sponsor the program

"It has been suggested that it should include an analysis of what congressional investigating committees are doing and a report on progress of the Republican clean-up campaign."

He declined to identify any possible sponsors.

MEMORABLE DAYS IN VINSON'S LIFE. Suddenly becoming ill in his Washington apartment, Supreme Court Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson died unexpectedly of a heart attack at the age of 63. personal friend of President Eisenhower, Vinson was appointed Chief Justice by former President Harry Truman in 1946. His death creates the first vacancy on the high court bench which President Eisenhower will be called on to fill. Highlights in the life of Vinson are shown pictorially (top, from left) as a Kentucky representative to Congress in 1927, as a Kentucky judge named economic stabilization director in 1943, secretary of the U. Other Republicans whose names figured in court speculation were Gov Thomas E Dewey of New York, Chief Justice Arthur V. Vanderbilt of the New Jersey Supreme Court and Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, N.C., presiding judge of the 4th U.S Circuit Court.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM) mentioned as a likely possibility Judge Orie Leon Phillips of the 10th U.S. Circuit Court.

Honorary Pallbearers

Vinson's former colleagues on the court will act as honorary pallbearers at his funeral tomorrow at Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral. Bishop Angus Dun will officiate.

While no definite travel plans were announced, there was no doubt that Eisenhower would come to Washington from his Denver vacation headquarters for the funeral. Former President Truman, who named Vinson chief justice in 1946, also planned to attend.

Further services will be held in Vinson's birthplace, Louisa, Ky., Friday afternoon. The late chief justice will be buried in Pinehill Cemetery in Louisa.

Ike

would fly to Washington to attend funeral services for Vinson tomorrow.

There was no official announcement, however, and Snyder said last night he would have no word on Eisenhower's plans until today.

If the President was doing any talking to anyone about the most important appointment to confront him since taking office, the small staff on hand here appeared to be completely in the dark about it.

The President issued a statement expressing shock and grief over Vinson's passing He said he had lost a close personal friend of many years—one who sat across the table at White House bridge games

The President also mourned the chief justice as a statesman and jurist "whom I admired deeply."

Eisenhower signed a proclamation calling for a 30-day period of mourning and directing flags on all federal buildings in the United States and overseas to be flown at half staff for a month.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The defense of those in government who need to cover their errors is that hindsight is easier than foresight. They contend not only that they were ignorant as to the course of events but that everybody was ignorant, proposition that is so obviously false that there would be no need to take the official apologists seriously were not the effects of their lack of prescience so tragic for this country.

SOKOLSKY

An investigation of the CIA and other intelligence agencies, going back to 1939 if necessary, might give us a clue to this lack of sound judgment.

FOR INSTANCE, if we did not have advance information on Pearl Harbor, why not?

If we did not know that the North Koreans planned to attack South Korea, why not? If we did not know that the Chinese Communists would take up the war in November 1950, why not?

If we did not know that Syngman Rhee would release Korean prisoners of war, why not?

If we have no advance information on the Berlin and Czechoslovakia strikes, why not?

If we did not know that our own agencies were supporting Italian socialists, thus helping to bring on defeat of the de Gasperi government, why not?

If we are not familiar with the influences that are weakening Adenauer in Germany, why not?

These are routine matters with which intelligence organizations concern themselves constantly.

It is their only reason for existence.

AN INTELLIGENCE organization is only as valuable as the competence of its evaluators of data. If they are dumb-clucks, they will reject the truth, pursuing their private prejudices against provable facts.

If the set-up is such that a man's job depends upon his agreeing with the policies of those who employ him, irrespective of the truth, he will never find the truth.

Charles A. Lindberg was pilloried and his public life destroyed because he evaluated information at his command correctly and with great wisdom.

During the debate preceding World War II, with amazing prescience and wisdom, he foresaw what is so true in 1953.

His words were prophetic and whenever one of the bureaucrats tells me that hindsight is easier than foresight, I ask him about Lindbjrgh's foresight, as I do about Herbert Hoover's.

IN 1948, Lindbergh wrote:

"For five years, at home and abroad, I spoke, wrote, and argued against a fratricidal war. I advocated that democratic nations stand by and arm while Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia fought out their totalitarian ideas.

"With Hitler and Stalin wishing to exterminate each other, and with Nazi forces already pointed eastward, it seemed to me the greatest folly to draw German guns to Western Europe against a France and England unprepared

"After fighting began, I pleaded that a negotiated peace between Allied and Axis powers would leave free peoples stronger than a victory based on unconditional surrender . . "

In 1953, it is impossible to question the correctness of Lindbergh's judgment in 1938 and 1939. What he then said has proved to be a sound judgment of what American policy should have been.

WHEN HE SPOKE these ideas, he was pilloried by those whose propaganda did not fit the truth.

As it is, we are now bogged down into the marsh of permanent militarism, with the need of constantly spending more of our earnings in a scientific and arms race with Soviet Russia.

Concerning this, Lindbergh wrote in 1948:

"We are in the grip of a scientific materialism, caught in a vicious cycle where our security today seems to depend on regimentation and weapons which will ruin us tomorrow.

"I believe the values we are creating and the standards we are now following will lead to the end of our civilization, and that if we do not control our science by a higher moral force, it will destroy us with its materialistic values, its rocket aircraft, and its atom bombs — as it has already destroyed large parts of Europe."

CAN ANYONE question the foresight in that statement now that we and the Russians are building weapons which can destroy our civilization and theirs?

Who is to hurl the hydrogen bomb on whom first?

That is the issue of our generation and it is a product of a war that history will establish was fought for no sure goal and need not have been fought at all.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

The underworld is looking for a new labor relations man to protect a $30,000,000 operation — a "legal racket" which the mobs expected to expand into a $120,000,000-a-year business.

RIESEL

The crime combine is looking for a tough trouble-shooter because the latest shooting — of hammer - fisted race track union tycoon Tommy Lewis — has gotten the big time gang bosses into trouble The killing, pulled off by a stumblebum who didn't know enough to put a silencer on his iron and who was sufficiently stupid to pull the job five flights up in a crowded Bronx apartment house, alarmed the "respectable" self - policing mobs for two reasons.

The shooting proved to them that too many small unions have professional killers on their payrolls —a hangover from Lepke's Murder, Inc, days — who are now stepping out of line.

AND THE BUMBLING assassination spotlighted the "legal" union insurance racket from which the neo-Mafia crowd, now handsomely tailored and meticulously manicured, are taking almost $30,000,000 in commissions on union insurance and welfare funds with a face value close to five billion dollars.

The crime combine warts nothing to interfere with its thoroughly successful invasion of the collectively bargained union welfare and insurance funds. The potential profit would put many a giant corporation to shame. No more than 25 per cent of organized labor is now insured

It would take an additional 15 billion dollars in face value of new policies to cover the rest of labor in some 75,000 local unions. This could yield some $90,000,000 a year in commissions.

And it would all be legal. All the mobs need do, once they get control of sufficient unions, is to continue to set up their wives, sons in-laws and fraternal mobsters as insurance brokers to place the business.

ONE FEDERAL investigator who has ripped open at least one of these insurance enterprises is William McKenna, general counsel of the House Committee on Government Operations. He has the names of two local union chiefs who made some $350,000 in commissions for shifting $750,000 worth of insurance to a Chicago company.

Similar operations are being uncovered regularly by FBI agents throughout the East, by the Manhattan District Attorney in New York and by the St. Louis Federal Grand Jury in Missouri and nearby states.

There, employers have been forced o pay 12½ per cent of their payrolls into local union welfare and insurance funds. These policies are then placed through a business agent, or one of the combine, or a lady friend, or even a wife—acting as an insurance agent under an easily obtainable state license

NOW ALONG COMES a local union feud, and a murder in the Bronx, no less. Not even in Brooklyn. And when the DA digs into the murdered union official's business activities, he discovers that the dead man's wife is vice-president of a brokerage firm which handled hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of insurance for some 10 unions in which the assassinated one had considerable personal influence

No reflection on the missus. It is all legal. There is no law which says that a union official can't operate an insurance company, directly or indirectly. And you can't measure trade union ethics by any but your own moral yardstick. But one thing is certain, it alerted the country the mob is moving in on this type of insurance — and it's disturbed when any part of the business is spotlighted.

The mob knows that there are many honest firms which make meagre profits out of this business of insuring the little union fellow, the duespayer who counts on his leaders to get is wife and children a square shake if he runs a fever or keels over. But the mobs don't want this kind of material printed.

THEY DON'T WANT the union people to know that there are labor outfits like the Philadelphia District Council of Iron Workers whose welfare fund purchases $5,000,000 in life insurance for its members — while the commissions to the honest broker handling it come to merely about $80 a week.

There's John L. Lewis' welfare fund, which now is building 10 hospitals — the first constructed by a union — to care for miners and even outsiders.

There's the CIO's National Maritime Union, which pays $2,000,000 a year in premiums for $140,000,000 worth of life insurance for its sailor members — and the broker handling this gets less than $10,000 annually in commissions.

There's the San Francisco Laborers Health and Welfare Fund, with a similar premium and a similar commission.

The Chicago Sheetmetal Workers Local 73 has a welfare fund placing $5,000,000 in insurance — and the agent gets less than $60 a week.

This business of insuring the welfare of the little fellow can be done honestly — but it does take guts to stand up under mob pressure. Those without this kind of guts should get out of the labor movement. They betray their trust.

Torture in 3-D

By Inez Robb

It won't surprise me a mite to pick up the papers any day now and read in the Hollywood columns that some studio is planning a 3-D production of Foxe's "Book of Martyrs," "Secrets of the Inquisition" and "Tortures of the Ancient Orient." The silver screen is already awash with gore.

INEZ ROBB

No picture really rates the terms "epic" or "colossal" anymore unless there is a soupcon of eye-gouging to give it "character."

-:-

THE HERO MUST either rearrange the physiognomy of a half dozen unsavory characters or permit them to re-distribute his before he can collect the heroine.

What still puzzles me is whether the audiences are screaming for blood or whether Hollywood is merely conditioning the public to meet, red and raw.

It could be that the movies are planning to beat teevee by turning present theaters into arenas and reviving no vaudeville but gladitorial contests. MGM has the lion and the rest of the studios the actors. What are they waiting for?

AS A STRICTLY non-violent party who believes in personal peace at almost any price, I have been avoiding the movies like the plague since the current reign of terror began with friends at large on every screen.

However, during the heat wave I was conned into going to an air-conditioned movie to see "From Here To Eternity". It has been greeted with rave reviews. Both critics and columnists predict it will sweep the field in the next Oscar derby.

So I guess the negative vote I am registering now will be the only one in the ballot box. Obviously I am a panty-waist the sadism was too much for me I got up and walked out on the great Oscar epic of 1953.

BUT I WAS the only man, woman or tiny tot who left before the last low blow or the final socko was administered. I know because I sat in the lobby of the theater waiting for the head of clan Robb.

"You left too soon," he said. "There was another fight after you left, and another murder. And now it's Pearl Harbor day and everybody's getting his. Let's get out of here before they blow up the theater!"

A day or so later I made it a point to speak with an executive of the studio which filmed 'From Here To Eternity". He readily admitted the brutality content was high.

"But men will like that action stuff," he said, using the technical euphemism for the blood-and-guts sequence, "and the women will string along because of the hot love scenes."

SO THE MODERN movie formula begins to emerge: love and brutality served red-hot off the same sizzling platter. Bound to please both Jack Spratt and the missus.

There is at least one glimmer of hope: in the last few movies I have seen, the boys have been content to beat up one another. They don't seem to be beating up the girls as much as they did a year or two ago.

I always felt this set a bad example for impressionable youths with time on their hands and muscles on their biceps.

I SHOULD THINK it would be nerve-wracking for a young girl never to know whether her date is interested in her as a person or a punching bag.

In my salad days, no gentleman would have dreamed of lifting a hand to a lady, no matter how much he loved her.

I now read that some studio is about to film "The Phantom Ape."

"This is taken from Edgar Allan Poe's gruesome thriller," the announcement reads, "and is guaranteed to make you jump right out of your skin."

4 College News Editors Decide To See Russia

Group Will Accept Soviet Offer; Will Go Behind Iron Curtain

NEW YORK (AP)—Four college newspaper editors are reported making plans to accept Soviet promises of visas for travel in Russia.

Zander Hollander of Brooklyn, feature editor of the University of Michigan Daily, said last night he and the three others are making arrangements for the trip.

He said the others are Natalie Becker of Brooklyn, editor of the Vassar College (Poughkeepsie, N.Y.,) Miscellany Arts; Daniel Berger, editor of the Oberlin (Ohio) College Review, and Mark Edmond, editor of the University of Colorado Daily.

Two other students, also promised visas by the Soviet Embassy in Washington, have not indicated their attentions. The two are Arthur Brown of Mishawaka, Ind., editor of the University of Chicago Maroon, and Kenneth F. Rystrom of Mayard, Neb., editor of the daily paper at the University of Nebraska.

The editorial board of the Queens College Crown, a student weekly at the New York municipal college, initiated the idea of the trip. The plan came after a recent tour of Russia by a group of American editors and publishers.

Ninety college and university newspapers were polled, and 16 agreed to participate. But only the seven student editors applied for the visas.

Their application was filed in July, and the Soviet Embassy reply came Aug. 31. It assured that the visas will be issued immediately upon presentation of passports.

Chemists Find Vitamin Helps Milk To Stay Sweet

By ALTON L. BLAESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—Milk stays sweet, without souring, up to four times longer if cows are fed a vitamin element costing a penny a month, two chemists reported today

Only a tiny amount of vitamin material, menadione, is needed daily It apparently acts like an antiobiotic against bacteria involved in making milk sour, Dr Karl Dittmer and G G. Kelley of Florida State University, Tallahassee, told the American Chemical Society.

Menadione is a raw material or precursor for vitamin K

Milk from cows getting menadione stayed sweet for 18 to 24 hours at body temperature, 98 6 degrees Milk from untreated cows sours in about 12 hours at that temperature

Pasteurized milk from cows fed the vitamin element stayed sweet about 20 per cent longer than milk from other cows Fresh raw milk, before pasteurizing, stayed sweet at 68 degrees for four days, against one day for other milk Stored at 50 degrees, the treated milk stayed unsoured 20 days, against five days for other milk

The cows tested got only about a thousandth of an ounce of menadione daily One pound of the stuff is enough for 50 cows for a year, in food or water. It can be made easily from available chemicals.

Dittmer and Kelley said such milk has no detectable change in flavor. When it does sour, it does so without hard curds or smell. It has a clean sour taste

They advised more study by other researchers of their findings, to see if this is a practical way to keep milk from souring

The antisouring effect doesn't show up until after several days of menadione Whether the milk actually gets some of the menadione, or some derivative of it, is not yet clear

Oatmeal yields chemicals which look promising as antiulcer drugs, said Dr John H Biel of Lakeside Laboratories, Milwaukee

These are chemicals not obtained by eating oatmeal, but from furfural, a by-product obtained in processing oatmeal

He said several of these chemicals tried in animals show antispasm activity greater than that of the ulcer drug atropine. But they don't produce the undesirable effects of the older drug. Another chemical seems to be a potent long-lasting local anesthetic. None of them has yet been tested upon humans They are known as piperidinol compounds.

Fight Orchard Disease

Wonder Drugs Offering Control Over Fireblight

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

MADISON, Wis (AP)—Control over "fireblight" — one of the worst bacterial plagues of apples and pears—appears within reach for the first time, a group of scientists reported yesterday

They said the 'wonder drugs' streptomycin and terramycin showed evidence of being the long-sought weapons against this malady "which can make an apple or pear orchard look as though it had been scorched by fire'

The scientists declared the disease has struck heavily at one time or another in all sections of the country where apples are grown And one of them said "Fireblight has more or less forced the pear out of existence in the central part of the United States"

Dr Robert N Goodman of the University of Missouri and Prof H C Young and Associate Prof H F Winter of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station made the statements at a news conference during the annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS) convention at the University of Wisconsin

Goodman had just reported to the AIBS that a combination of the two wonder drugs in a spray had completely protected all of some 60 Jonathan apple trees in a test he conducted

The Ohio scientists said that in recent tests of their own, streptomycin alone protected up to 80 per cent And these results they said, compare with an effectiveness of only 56 per cent for the best chemical treatment previously available against fireblight

All three researchers said the wonder drug treatment is at present "fairly expensive" But a representative of the drug manufacturing firm, Charles Pfizer & Co which supplied the drugs for their tests, told reporters his company was working on the cost matter and eventually 'it appears we ll be able to market a product of combined streptomycin and terramycin that will be economically feasible for such a use'

The three scientists said the success of the tests against fireblight suggested streptomycin and terramycin or other drugs of the antibiotic class might eventually lead to control of other still-stubborn bacterial diseases of various crops and fruits

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Fourth

Martin Kane, one of the earliest of TV's private eyes, is one of those roles that goes on and on. The actors, though, don't. There have been four Martin Kanes so far and this is just the beginning. The four, in order: William Gargan, Lloyd Nolan, Lee Tracy and — The incumbent — Mark Stevens.

J. CROSBY

I don't know what happens to the old Martin Kanes. I haven't heard very much of Messrs. Gargan, Nolan and Tracy lately. They just wear out, I guess, getting slugged and running over the roofs of buildings and staring in the business ends of revolvers and, after a while — I'm just guessing here — they're laid to rest in a private boneyard for old worn-out Martin Kanes.

The present Martin Kane, Mr. Stevens, is the handsomest of the lot. I have this on the authority of the young lady who inspected him for me the other night Handsomeness is an area I don't venture an opinion on without expert help. Stevens is also — this opinion is my very own — the best-dressed of the lot. On the other hand he has less personality than any of the others, and he mumbles his words in such a way that I frequently don't know what the devil is going on.

ANOTHER THING. Stevens, conceivably prodded by the writer or the director, gets more stirred up by the evil of mankind than any of the others. The other three appeared to accept the general malevolence of human nature as something they couldn't do very much about. Mr. Tracy, in particular, seemed almost to enjoy the cussedness of the human race, even while belting some of its specimens in the nose.

Stevens, on the other hand, gets downright indignant about murder. Very old-fashioned of him. In the current "Saturday Review of Literature," John Paterson writes that the classic, or Conan Doyle school of detective was a cerebral character, far removed in intellect from the common herd and a little contemptuous of it. He admired society as it was set up and his crime detection was, in essence, a defense of society against its marauders.

The sympathies of the Sam Spade type of detective, according to Paterson, are much closer to the criminals they are apprehending than to the propertied classes they're protecting. Sam Spade — if I dig him correctly — doesn't belong either to the underworld or to organized society and consequently is a very lonely man.

MARTIN KANE, though, doesn't belong either to the Conan Doyle school — you would hardly describe him as an intellect of distinction — or the Sam Spade school. He approves of society well enough, he's no great brain and therefore hasn't much real reason for existing He just isn't very interesting and, heaven knows, the crimes he solves are anything but masterpieces of criminal art. They're just tough adventure stories and I'm pretty tired of them.

If anyone's in the market for a good private eye on television. I'd like to suggest Sir Cedric Hardwicke, if he's available. Hardwicke appeared on a recent "Suspense" story called "Death in the Pasig," a moody, atmospheric murder tale set in Manila. Hardwicke played the part of an urbane, terribly relaxed and magnificently lazy private dick. He strolled through the part with superb self - assurance, bringing an air of authority to the private eye racket that it hasn't had for a long time.

Hardwicke looks as if he had a mind of some subtlety and complexity, and it would be wonderful to have just one private dick on television like that.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject, we might as well dispose of a new series called "I'm the Law" inhabited by an oldish actor, George Raft. If I remember my childhood at all correctly, Raft was never on this side of the law, but times have changed and here he is, a private eye.

This one is pure Mickey Spillane — or as near Mickey as the censors will allow. A sample of the dialogue (from a girl): "Every night I sleep with terror and wake up with fear It's all mixed up with violence and hatred and boogie woogie."

Raft strolled through this one, wooden-faced and talking in a complete monotone. On the only one I saw or ever hope to see, he got the killer all right, but to this day I have no idea why the killer did it No one bothered to explain.

State Patrol Selects Bucyrus Site for Post

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Arrangements have been completed by the Ohio state highway patrol for purchase of a site for permanent barracks of the district patrol post recently established here.

The site will be located on the north edge of a farm of the late Frank L. Hopley, about one and a half miles north of Bucyrus on State Route 4. State highway department engineers from Ashland will make a survey of the location in the near future, state patrol officers said today.

When the district patrol station was established here last week, patrol officers said a $90,000 barracks would be erected at a later date.

U.S. May Set Off New H-Bomb, Paper Says

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Sun says the United States may explode a "fully developed" H-bomb next year.

The paper's military correspondent in Washington, Mark S Watson, wrote that as a result of recent technical developments "there now is in prospect, in 1954, a testing at Bikini Atoll of a fully developed hydrogen-bomb, the world's first true weapon of that type . . . ."

The copyrighted story said, "No formal and official statement on this matter is expected until late next month . . . ."

In Washington, the Atomic Energy Commission had no comment.

Drunken drivers caused accidents which killed 54 people and injured 1,406 in Belgium in 1952.

Club Holds First Dinner Meeting of Fall Season Tonight

Dr Kenneth W. Keever of Richwood, originator of the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation at Magnetic Springs in neighboring Union County will be the speaker at the first dinner meeting of the fall for the Business and Professional Women's Club tonight at Hotel Harding.

Awarded a one-year fellowship in physical medicine and rehabilitation by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1951, Dr. Keever completed three years of clinical study in the polio field last year, doing research at Warm Springs, Ga., and at other centers approved by the Council of Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

He decided to specialize in the treatment of infantile paralysis several years ago when his daughter, Carla, then in grade school, became ill with the disease. She received treatment and therapy at Warm Springs. Since the establishment of his own foundation for work against the malady, he has interested many civic groups in the area in the project.

The dinner meeting tonight is under direction of the club's public affairs committee headed by Miss Kathryn Lusch. Members serving with her are Miss Janet Geddis, Mrs Helen Meredith, Miss Mary K. Miley, Miss Mary Nisiewicz, and Miss Kathleen Thomas.

POLIO DELAYS OPENING

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The opening of school at Johnsville, Morrow county, scheduled for yesterday, was postponed until Sept 14 because of the death by polio Sunday of Bonnie Ann Eberle, 8, of North Woodbury.

The State of Virginia extends farther west than does neighboring West Virginia.

IN THE SERVICE

A-2C George William Hart, Mrs. Hart, and their son, Dukie, have returned to Biloxi, Miss., where the serviceman is stationed in the U. S. Air Force at Keesler Field. They had made an extended visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart of Kensington Rd., and with her father, Dewey Pelk of S. High St. On Aug 23, the Sunday before they left here, a family dinner was held at the Hart residence to celebrate birthday anniversaries of Miss Emma Linde, Robert Hart, and Airman Hart and young son.

PATROL ARRESTS DRIVER

State patrolmen from the Marion post reported one arrest during the last 24 hours. Paul Hill, 26, of Sandusky, was arrested for speeding and was fined $50 and costs by Mayor M. F. Pinney at Delaware Tuesday.

Blowtorch Sets House Afire; $75 Loss Listed

A loss of $75 resulted from an attempt by James Farley to use a blowtorch to peel the paint off a house at 597 E. Church St. The flame from the blowtorch set fire to the siding of the house Tuesday afternoon at 3:11 p.m. Firemen from the Central station were called to douse the blaze. It took them about 20 minutes to do the job. The man said he was preparing to repaint the house and was trying to remove the old paint by using the torch.

Ruling by Madison Judge Halts State Highway Director

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Madison County judge's ruling that the state highway director may not deprive property owners of access to a certain stretch of U. S. 40 has state attorneys pondering law books.

Common Pleas Judge James F. Bell said over the weekend the highway director took the law into his own hands in limiting entrance to 13 58 miles of the highway.

Bell said the route in his county has not been especially designed for through traffic. Therefore, he said, it could not be declared a limited access road.

Highway director Samuel O Linzell and Atty .- Gen C William O'Neill both were holding back decisions yesterday as to whether or not they would file an appeal They said they had to study Bell's ruling some more.

Example of Faith

Gen. Dean Teaches Two Big Lessons

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You don't have to meet a man in this world to learn something from him.

I never met Maj. Gen. William Dean. I got to Korea late in July 1950, a few days after he was reported missing in combat. This I have always regretted. I would like to have seen him in action.

He is free again now, after nearly three years in enemy prison camps. But although I never met him personally, he has enriched my life by teaching me two things:

1. Don't sell faith short.
2. A man's example lives beyond his presence.

When I first reached Korea, Gen. Dean's 24th Infantry Dvision was still refreating after a series of confused but magnificent delaying stands to hold up an overwhelming North Korean Army that, had it known how to use its power, would have had the entire peninsula in three short weeks.

A still - dazed American officer told me:

"We thought all we had to do was to stand on a hill and show the U. S. uniform, and all those little brown gooks would run back north where they came from."

In those dark days the 24th Division had suffered terrible losses. And each day it suffered more. It is less a criticism of the men than it is of America to say the division was unready for combat.

The men weren't in proper shape. They were short of the right weapons. And so it was that Gen Dean, a first class fighting man, had to go up and do what no division commander should be required to do.

He had to go up and show the boys how. He himself was the 24th Division. He was the spearhead of an ill-prepared America — in the flesh. He had to do what they teach a commander at West Point he shouldn't have to do. He had to go to the bare front, forget his two stars, and lead like a second lieutenant. So did his colonels—including rugged Dick Stephens, later known as "The Big Six," and now a major general himself.

The fate of Gen. Dean was to be captured, after trying to get a wounded man back. He knew that theoretically a man of his rank shouldn't be where he was—but he was fighting a fact, not a taught war. Without the on-the-spot leadership that such commanders as he and Col Stephens gave, the retreat would have become a rout.

After his bullet-pierced helmet was found, those of us who came later were sure Gen. Dean was dead. But again and again we ran into this stubborn comment from the enlisted men who had seen him fight:

"They just couldn't have killed the general. He's too smart for them. He'll turn up yet."

This faith seemed futile and foolish to us at the time. But it was amazing how the example of Gen. Dean's personal courage carried on with his men. They found it hard to let him down, knowing what he had done. And they didn't let him down.

Through all the months after that each member of the battered 24th Division felt he could hardly do less than his lost leader.

That kind of frontline leadership went out of the American Army with the Civil War. It is too expensive, and a modern army no longer can afford it.

But it is a fact of history that the sacrifice and valor of Gen. Dean paid off magnificently. Nor will the American Army—and the relations between officer and enlisted man—suffer by what he did.

In the annals of our soldiery he will be imperishably remembered as the general who, when it had to be done, went up gun in hand and showed the boys how. No other officer in our time has done more to popularize the stars of rank.

Yankees, Bums Eager To Cinch Titles

League Winners Will Play First Series Game Sept. 30

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, already close to clinching their respective league championships, may be excused if they suddenly get eager to finish the job in a hurry.

They certainly won't be toying around now that it appears they may play before a 2½ million dollar gate and the largest players' pool in World Series history.

This became a strong possibility yesterday when Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and other executives decided to kick up the prices of World Series tickets enough to increase the average gate from $50,000 to $100,000 a game.

Box seats are up from $8 to $10 Reserved seats are up from $6 to $7. And bleachers are up from $1 to $2, a 100 per cent rise. It'll still cost the same for standing room—$4.

The men who run baseball made some other important decisions which fell into the routine category. The 1953 Series will open Wednesday, Sept. 30, in the park of the American League champion Starting time is 1:05 p.m., EST, except Sunday in Brooklyn when the time will be 2:05 p.m.

The Yankees, with a nine-game lead over Cleveland and a magic number of 10, open their final home stand against the Western clubs tonight with the tough Chicago White Sox as hosts.

The Dodgers, with a 12-game advantage over Milwaukee and a magic number of 4, swing West for a nine-game trip which begins with a night engagement at Cincinnati.

Any combination of 10 Yankee victories and Cleveland defeats can clinch a fifth American League pennant for cagy Casey Stengel. The doughty Dodgers need just four triumphs or a combination of Milwaukee setbacks to end whatever suspense remains in the National League.

The Braves appear in no mood to make it easy for Brooklyn mathematicians. In the only game played in the majors last night, a playoff of a July 31 tie game, they edged out the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 with some weird ninth-inning shennanigans.

With the score tied 2-2, Bill Bruton, Milwaukee leadoff man, struck out. But, when catcher Stan Lopata missed one of Johnny Lindell's knuckleballs on the third strike, Bruton scooted for first When Lopata failed to retrieve the ball, Bill took off for second Johnny Logan sacrificed him to third and then Bruton scampered home, beating the throw, when Andy Pafko bounced to the infield. Lefty Johnny Antonelli was the winner; Lindell, making his first start for the Phils after moving over from Pittsburgh, was the loser.

The record World Series gate was set by the Yankees and Dodgers in 1947 when 389,763 fans turned out and there was a seven-game gross of $2,021,348.92, including $240,000 in radio and television moneys.

The largest players' pool, limited to receipts of the first four games, was $580,562 27, collected by the Yankees and Giants in 1951.

Both of these all-time high figures stand a good chance of being bettered under the stepped-up admission prices, the first ticket hike in years. Yankee Stadium has a seating capacity of 67,000. Brooklyn's Ebbets Field 32 111

The stadium, for instance, has some 18,000 box seats and 35,000 reserved seats. Under the new prices, a game at the stadium conceivably might draw $100,000 more than in recent years.

After opening Sept. 30, the World Series games will be played right on through without a day's interruption—that is, unless Milwaukee sneaks through. And the Yanks and Dodgers have been given permission to go ahead and print Series pasteboards The baseball brass figures they're taking little chance of wasting precious paper.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Batting — Gran Hamner, Philadelphia Phils, slugged home run with Del Ennis on base for team's only runs in 3-2 loss to Milwaukee

Pitching—Johnny Antonelli, Milwaukee Braves, stopped Phillies with seven hits in pitching Braves' 3-2 win, his 12th victory against 10 defeats.

Archers' Club Set for Fall Title Shooting

The fall championship meet of the Marion Archers' Club is scheduled Sunday at the New Hickory Grove Lake area one and one-half miles southwest of Big Island.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. with the 28 target hunting round, the archers in the afternoon will shoot on a four target range

Trophies will go to the winners of each of the two rounds. The championship trophy will be awarded to the top scorer of the combined shoots

The meet is for Marion Archers' Club members in competition for the trophies and medals but any one can shoot against the club after paying the entrance fee. However, their score will not count toward the trophies.

The local archery club now boast 34 active members. Members are preparing for the deer season which opens in Michigan and Pennsylvania Oct. 1.

Giles Changes Mind; To Study Furillo Brawl

CINCINNATI (AP)—President Warren Giles of the National League has changed his mind and now plans to investigate last Sunday's fight between Carl Furillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants.

Giles, who first dismissed the brawl as a "typical ballplayers tussle," told a reporter he learned Furillo was quoted as saying, "I'll get him (Durocher) on the field, on the street, anywhere"

Neither Furillo nor Durocher landed a blow, but somebody stepped on Furillo's wrist during the melee and put him out of action until the World Series.

Rex Layne Kayoed In Utah Slugfest

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Which way will Utah's Rex Layne turn now?

Last night the once second-ranked heavyweight contender was knocked out for the second time in 10 weeks by Earl Walls of Edmonton, Canada, ranked No. 10 among the heavy fighters.

Before the fight, the ring-wise said that if Rex lost this one, he would be all washed up—and would have to start from scratch again in his climb up the fistic ladder

But those same speculators are thinking again today—for the Utah slugger put on one of his best fighting demonstrations and held a commanding lead over the Canadian champ before he caught a sharp left on the jaw and went down for the third and final time in the sixth round.

Among members of the Tuareg tribes of the Sahara Desert, the men wear veils day and night that cover all their faces except the eyes and the tip of the nose.

Injury Jinx Hits Ludwig Third Year as Star Michigan Gridder

The jinx hovering over Dean Ludwig, Harding High School graduate with the University of Michigan grid squad, hung on Tuesday.

For the third season in a row since enrolling at the Wolverine school Dean has been injured with the football squad. This injury, however, is not thought to be as serious as the other two.

Two years ago during his first season with the Wolves, Ludwig suffered a broken leg the week prior to the Ohio State battle. Last year he suffered a neck injury during pre-season action which was serious enough to keep him out of acuon for the entire season. In scrimmage yesterday, the Marion ace, suffered a minor head injury in a collision with another gridder during a scrimmage.

The latest injury is not believed serious. Members of his family had not been informed of his injury this morning and reports from Ann Arbor said he probably would return to action this week

A junior at the Michigan school, Ludwig is majoring in physical education. Prior to last year's injury, he had been tabbed by Coach Bennie Oosterbaan as a No. 1 linebacker along with Roger Zatkoff. Ted Topor took over his spot following his absence.

Dean is a sure-fire bet to hit the varsity this year. Dick O'Shaugnessy, captain of the Wolves, was tentatively moved to a guard post to make room for Dean at center under the new substitution rule Ludwig was a two-way player while at Harding. He graduated from Harding in 1951 where he won varsity letters for football, basketball and track. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. L. Harrison Ludwig.

Dancer Ready, Points Toward $50,000 Event

NEW YORK (AP)—Native Dancer, frisky as a hep cat, was sent out for another gallop around Belmont Park's huge 1½-mile main track today and trainer Bill Winfrey expects to turn the big grey champion loose in a speed workout in a day or so.

Since the Dancer bruised a foot recently, the Alfred Vanderbilt stable has almost had to issue daily bulletins on the colt's condition. Telephones ring at all hours in the Vanderbilt barn office and at Winfrey's apartment. Photographers swarm around the 3-year-old king.

"He's 100 per cent now," said Winfrey after the colt galloped around the track yesterday for the first time since his arrival from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., a week ago.

Winfrey is pointing the Dancer for the greatest test of his brilliant career, the meeting with Tom Fool and perhaps other older horses in the $50,000 Sysonby Mile at Belmont Sept. 26

It was somewhat of a shock when the Dancer developed soreness in his left forefoot after winning the American Derby at Chicago Aug. 22 for his 18th victory in 19 races.

"But, you learn to take the bitter with the sweet in this business," said Winfrey, confident that the Dancer was on solid underpinning again.

Garcia Draws Assignment As Tribe Starts Final Trip

BOSTON (AP)—Can the Indians hold second place? Can Early Wynn or Mike Garcia reach 20 victories?

The Cleveland Club opens a two-game series with Boston tonight, and Garcia should get a strong test of his prospects. He goes against southpaw Bill Henry.

Whether the Indians can keep ahead of third place Chicago will not become apparent immediately. But on past performance the Indians are anything but a sure bet. The Tribe plays 13 games on the current trip, in every league city except St. Louis. And their road record this year is 32-32, an even .500 percentage. The White Sox are better road players than the Indians.

Cleveland's "Big Three" all went into the 20-game circle last year, but only Bob Lemon appears to be a sure thing this year. He has 19 wins, and probably will start about five more games. Early Wynn needs three more victories, and at the most will get only five more starts.

Garcia has a harder task He has won 16, and after tonight's game with the Red Sox will have about four more starts—probably against the Yankees, the Athletics and possibly Chicago on the current trip, and Detroit in the final home stand.

Nevada, Belle Center Leaders In Mid-Ohio Baseball Tourney

The Mid-Ohio Baseball Tourney is scheduled to come to a close Sunday at Lincoln Park after sessions last Sunday and Labor Day.

Forest will meet Nevada in the opening game this Sunday at 1 p.m. The winner will take on Belle Center at 3 30 p.m in the finals If Belle Center is defeated another game will be played the following Sunday.

In Labor Day games, Nevada edged Green Camp Elevator 5-4 in 12 frames and Belle Center nipped Forest, 2-1, in a pitchers battle for the championship of the top bracket

Nevada squeezed in the winning run after a walk for its one-run victory. Don Johnson was the losing hurler while Hank McBride pitched for the victorious Nevada club. Charles Rice and Vern Hensel each had three hits for the losers.

Belle Center and Forest each scored a run in the first and then the winners pushed across what proved to be the margin of victory in the fifth on a double and fielders' choice. Belle Center scored its first run on a single, fielders' choice and two errors and Forest its run on an error and passed ball.

Ohlen Hemmerly of Forest allowed three hits while striking out 18 while Bob Patterson of the winners allowed but two safeties and fanned 15.

In games leading up to the Labor Day clashes Sunday, Nevada trounced LaRue 12-2 and Green Camp eliminated Alger, 9-5. Don Reid was the winning hurler for Nevada while Persinger was the loser.

Jim Edington hurled Green Camp to its victory. M. Giers was the loser for Alger Bob Weston had a triple and double and Edington clouted a homer, for the winners.

Johnson Wins

Ez Charles Drops Split Verdict; Return Bout Set

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The most interesting thing about boxing is what you hear in the dressing room after a fight. Take the Harold Johnson-Ezzard Charles battle at Connie Mack Stadium last night, which the 2-to-1 underdog, Johnson, won in slashing, bruising style.

Pre-fight talk by both boxers, their managers, the promoter and anybody else who could get in a public quote, was that this was the win-or-else fight for Charles; it was the chance of a lifetime for 25-year-old Johnson.

The winner was going to get the next crack at the heavyweight title. Why, Johnson would get a light heavyweight title fight with champion Archie Moore even if he lost but made a good showing.

Then came the dawn, or rather the end of the fight. Reporters crowded into the sweaty dressing rooms, fought their way through numberless well-wishers and confronted the managers. Charles, his co-managers, Tom Tannas and Jake Mintz, all thought Charles won. Retired? Man, you're a crazy mixed-up kid, they implied.

"Why, we have a contract for a return bout within 60 days and we name the site," they shouted almost in unison. You see, the fight mob has more secrets than the State Department.

Perplexed and still unbelieving, you hustle down the corridor to Johnson's quarters. He and his manager, Tommy Loughren, were talking about fighting Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title, or maybe Moore for the light heavyweight crown.

They were making millions—in the dressing room, anyway.

Then an innocent reporter popped a question. "Do you have a return bout contract with Charles?"

Silence, then thought, then sudden realization, then speech.

"Yes, we do. I guess we'll have to fight him in 60 days. Probably in Milwaukee, Pittsburgh or Cincinnati."

The result is this: Charles will once again fight for survival. Johnson will once more get the chance of a lifetime.

Getting back to the fight, it was a dandy. The two Negro fighters fought a spirited, bruising battle. Charles was the agressor, but he was outboxed by a confident, hungry fighter who provided 8,462 fans —they paid $37,680—with as pretty an evening of counterpunching as this reporter has seen in years.

The decision was split, with Judge Lou Tress scoring it 7-3 for Johnson, Judge Joe Capristo 5-4-1 for Charles and Referee Buck McTiernan 6-3-1 for Johnson. The AP had it 5-3-2 for Johnson.

Charles weighed 185½ and Johnson 177.

Browns Expect Rugged Fight With Chicago

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' somewhat battered defensive corps is expecting Coach George Halas to send the Chicago Bears into an all out struggle with the Browns Friday night.

Never having beaten the Browns, Halas is anxious to turn the trick, and has been experimenting with his backfield offensive power.

For Friday night's tilt in Chicago, the Browns still may be crippled defensively, Warren Lahr has been suffering from a sprained ankle. Tommy James, along with offensive end Pete Brewster, was shaken up in an auto accident Sunday night and missed playing in the 23-21 victory over the Baltimore Colts Monday night.

Coach Paul Brown said he wanted another look at Sherman Howard in the defensive halfback position, where he played against Baltimore. Howard has been a member of the offensive crew, usually at halfback, but occasionally at fullback.

Anyone Want To Teach? Ohio Is Shy 6,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While the youngsters in Ohio's schoolrooms this year are trying to add two apples and two apples, their principals will be struggling with much tougher arithmetic.

They have to figure out how to make 48,251 teachers do the work of 54,664

Dr. Clyde Hissong, state education director, summed up Ohio's biggest education headache yesterday when he said there just aren't enough teachers to go around.

According to his mathematics, there should be one teacher for every 30 pupils. The way it's working out now that school bells are ringing throughout the state there is one teacher for every 34 students.

But his figures indicate things are getting slightly better. This year, Hissong said, 2,111 more teachers were at work in Ohio public, parochial and private schools than there were in 1952. There was an increase of 46,781 in enrollments

So, if the teachers that signed up this year were to teach only the students who enrolled this year, it would boil down to one teacher for 22 pupils Overall however, it would only reduce the pupils-per-teacher ratio from 34 7 to 34

Hissong blamed most of the difficulty of hiring help in rural sections on low salary ranges but said a shortage of living quarters also made things tough.

The director said areas are so hard hit by the teacher shortage that schools are on half-day schedules with students studying in shifts

About 94,500 children were enrolled in public school kindergartens this year Hissong said he expects some 100,000 to register for the 1953-54 school year.

Big Cities Seek Speedier Air Mail Service

First Class Material To Be Flown; May Save Up to 24 Hours

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ordinary letter, handled over the years by pony, overland coach, train and truck, will soon be flying between some large cities in a major experiment with speedier service

Postmaster General Summerfield announced to a news conference late yesterday that he has made arrangements to inaugurate the test service for surface first class mail between New York and Chicago and between Chicago and Washington, subject to Civil Aeronautics Board approval.

The items which he proposes to put into the air would include the standard 3-cent letter, the 2-cent postcard and other "preferential mail" having a vital time value, such as newspapers.

Summerfield estimated that delivery times between the three cities initially involved could be cut by as much as 24 hours. He said that if the experiment works out as well as he expects it to, a similar shift from train and truck to planes will be made elsewhere in the country.

The idea is to buy from established airlines space which otherwise would be empty because of capacity bookings of their passenger and cargo space.

Summerfield filed a petition with CAB for permission to negotiate for such space at a rate of 18 6 cents a ton mile on New York Chicago flights and 20 04 cents on ChicagoWashington ones

The rates, he said, will amount to about what the government is now paying the railroads for surface hauling.

Store in Marion Sets Video Demonstrations

A demonstration of how television works, with customers having a chance to see themselves on television, will be held at the Montgomery Ward retail store, 205 W Center St., next week.

J J Weir, manager, has announced a TV camera of the same type used in commercial studios will be in operation Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 14-15, to transmit pictures and voices of customers through a closed circuit connection, directly to the screens of regular television sets.

In the demonstration, a large board, with an entire receiver spread out and wired for actual operation, which is a replica of a device used to train company TV repairmen, will be used.

AFL President Tightens Hold On Federation

Meany Emerges Top Man After Quarrel With Carpenters

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL President George Meany emerged today at the end of a feud with the rebelling Carpenters Union more strongly entrenched than ever as the big labor federation's top man.

The 822,000-member carpenters group, one of the AFL's founding organizations, returned to the AFL fold yesterday as suddenly as it quit 27 days earlier, on Aug. 12

The cause of the trouble was reported to have been a showdown between 58-year-old Meany and 79-year-old William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, the AFL's first vice president and one of the federation's patriarchs.

"Big Bill," also president emeritus of the Carpenters Union, had long been accustomed to having his advice listened to with great respect in AFL councils, particularly during the many years the late William Green was AFL president.

Green died last fall and Meany, then AFL secretary-treasurer, was named to the top job. The aging Hutcheson remained as first vice president.

Hutcheson had reportedly got his way frequently with Green and the AFL Executive Council by threatening to pull the carpenters out of the federation. Meany evidently was determined not to budge the first time "Big Bill" tried it on him

The showdown came at the AFL council's Chicago meeting last month. Meany had negotiated an agreement with the CIO to stop "raiding," or attempting to persuade already organized members to switch unions.

Hutcheson protested against signing such an agreement with the CIO when, he said, the AFL had never done anything about setting up machinery to compel settlement of scraps between rival AFL unions.

In 1679, after 38 years as a part of Massachusetts, New Hampshire became a province of itself by an order of the king of England. This was preceded by a decree of the English courts to the effect that Massachusetts had no right to extend its jurisdiction over New Hampshire.

The seat of New Hampshire government is at the state house in Concord and has been for more than 136 years although the present capitol building has been twice remodeled. Twice strong efforts have been made to move the capital to Manchester, the largest city in the state.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Porch Floor Paint

Q.: We built a front porch floor of used lumber and it will not hold paint. It scales and flakes off There seems to be something in the wood that causes this condition Could you suggest how we can overcome this?

A.: This condition frequently occurs because of the presence of dampness or water which penetrates into the floor boards. The lack of ventilation of the space between the ground and the porch floor will also cause paint to peel and scale off. If there is crawl space under the porch floor it would be wise to cover the ground with a moisture and vaporproof paper, overlapping the sheets about twelve inches and extending the laps onto the surrounding wall area. All laps should be sealed with an asphalt roof coating or roofing cement. Before applying additional paint close up all spaces between the floor boards with a good grade of putty. The filling should be done when the boards are exceptionally dry. If there are any signs in the wood that oil was used as a treatment, a stain sealer will first have to be applied over the bare wood before attempting to repaint.

REMOVING PLASTER

Q: Sloppy plasterers dripped plaster on my concrete cellar floor when they were plastering the walls. How can I get it off?

A: First, try scraping it off with a putty knife or a stiff wire brush. This should get off most of it. But if some spots still remain, you'll have to use more drastic measures. Mix one part of muriatic acid with ten parts of water and scrub with a stiff brush. Wear heavy gloves and use a wooden pail, and don't let the solution get on your skin, because it is very corrosive. It's wise to wear goggles to protect your eyes from stray splashes Leave the solution on the spots for ten minutes, then rinse with plenty of clean water.

THIS VACATION

This vacation you will want to get away, relax, do things that are different, forget business and home problems. No matter where you go or what you do, its still nice to keep in touch with what's going on back in the old home town. The only way to do this is to have The Star mailed to you.

IS YOUR NAME ANNIE ROONEY?
YES, THAT'S MY NAME—AN' HIS NAME IS ZERO—
WHEN I SAW YOU, I TOLD LILY, "HERE COMES THAT SMART LITTLE GIRL WHO DESERVES ALL THE CREDIT FOR GETTING US KIDS THAT BEAUTIFUL NEW SCHOOL-HOUSE"
MY GOODNESS GRACIOUS, NO! I DON'T DESERVE ANY CREDIT AT ALL! I ONLY SUGGESTED MAKING A SCHOOL-HOUSE OUT OF THE OLD PICKLE FACTORY—IT WAS ALL THE WONDERFUL PEOPLE WHO DID THE WORK WHO DESERVE THE CREDIT
WELL, EVEN IF SHE DIDN'T DO ALL THE WORK HERSELF, IT WAS HER IDEA THAT GOT US A NEW SCHOOLHOUSE--
IT SURE IS SWELL TO KNOW THAT YOU KIDS LIKE THE NEW SCHOOL!

Youth Cons Con Man With Empty Billfold

TOPEKA, Kan. (UP)—It was highly embarassing for the con man—he was conned by a teenager.

Police said a man who gave the name of Carl Sims approached the youth on a downtown street and offered to sell him a ring that bore a $19.50 price tag for $3 50. The boy said he would pay all in his billfold and handed it over.

Inside was nothing but play money. The man chased the youth but he escaped and told officers who arrested Sims. The man said he had bought the ring for $1.50. Upon his agreement to leave town, vagrancy charges were dropped.

EARLY REPORT

NEW YORK (AP) — The fireside league is starting even before the winter comes. Old time veteran players visiting the Polo Grounds were scoffing at some of the young players of today who were complaining of heat exhaustion caused during some of the torrid days which sweltered New York in July. The youngsters retorted that the oldsters didn't have to play night games in their day and then report to the park by 11 a.m. next day.
